PATIENT EVACUATION from the four floors of the Binney Wing filled the lobby and other areas of St. Elizabeth Hospital that were free from smoke. The third

Study overpass delay

Concerned about design and structural problems at the Granite City Secondary Sewage Treatment Plant and delays in planning for construction of an overpass between West Granite City and downtown were the topics of discussion Tuesday night at the Granite City Council meeting in special session with architects for the city.

Aldermen were particularly concerned about a letter from M.W. Architects and Engineers, Inc., St. Louis, the firm handling both projects for the city, which "pushed back" the bidding date for the overpass on 19th Street from June 30 of this year to Jan. 30, 1979.

Alderman Roy Poulos asked if the delay is necessary, saying, "We should have started this 100 years ago. We are a town isolated within a town, at Paris."

Alderman Margaret Nonn noted she had been held up 45 minutes by a train while trying to get to the City Council meeting that night from West Granite City.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey said some groups in the West and North Granite City areas have been considering starting a petition drive to get the city moving on constructing the overpass.

Aaron Pierson, vice-president of the M.W. firm, said the first schedule submitted to the council from his firm, which showed bidding set for June 30 of this year, was in error "and was obviously totally unrealistic in design times and particularly review times," he said.

The project plans must be studied and approved step-by-step by District Eight of the Department of Transportation, then by the state DOT in Springfield and then by the Federal Highway Administration before funds will be released.

Approval is needed on property acquisitions, utilities, several necessary agreements between the city and the state, and other documents, in addition to the basic structural designs and blueprints, he explained.

Howard Dillon, head of the civil engineering department for the M.W. firm, told the council that District Eight announced March 16 that it was including the Granite City overpass in its 1979 fiscal year program and scheduled it for the third quarter of that fiscal year, which begins in January of 1979.

Nuns also were evacuated from the convent on the fifth floor of the Binney Wing. Police aided hospital security guards in controlling visitors and sight-seeing in the lobby and around the outside of the building.

The aerial fire truck, three pumps, emergency van, two ambulances and a fire engine were on hand.

"At our most recent meeting, there was a floor discussion of the proposed 'Horseshoe Lake Park Project.' It was the general opinion of the delegates that there has been much delay in the development of this recreational project.

"There has been some land procurement, but there is much preliminary work that could be carried on at this time, which would bring on the use of the completed park at a much earlier date.

The council feels that starting some of this preliminary work would ease the unemployment situation in this general area.

"The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council is respectfully requesting that you use your good offices and advance the development of this much needed recreational facility in this general area."

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has proclaimed Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, as Granite City Steel Days in conjunction with the 100th anniversary of its founding as the Granite Iron Rolling Mills.

In conjunction with the anniversary, the public will be allowed to tour the giant facilities those two days. The tours will begin from the plant parking lot on Lee Avenue between 20th and 21st streets and visitors will travel by bus to the blast furnace, basic oxygen furnace, blooming mill and 80-inch hot strip line.

An optional tour also will be offered to the new waste water treatment facility on Horseshoe Lake. The last time the plant was open to the public was in 1974 and more than 8,000 persons viewed the facilities.

Granite City Steel dates its history to the construction of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills in St. Louis in 1878. That plant furnished steel for the production of graniteware at the nearby St. Louis Stamping Works.

13 treated after E hospital fire

127 patients evacuated

When fire broke out on the third floor of the Binney Wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital, emergency procedures were put rapidly into action both inside and outside the hospital, to protect not only patients, but also firemen, emergency personnel and motorists in the vicinity.

At 127 patients, some in wheelchairs and in beds, were evacuated from several floors of the hospital, police converged on the facility to close Niedringhaus Avenue and Iowa Street for emergency vehicles only. Traffic backed up several blocks, but motorists were quickly dispersed by the police.

Inside the hospital, one observer commented "a highly-trained hospital staff" which evacuated the patients in just over 10 minutes. One staff member commented that such evacuation procedures are practiced on a regular basis during emergency disaster training exercises.

Patients were moved not only from the third floor Binney Wing where the fire occurred, but also from the second and fourth floors of that wing and the third floor of the adjoining Doctors' Wing.

Nuns also were evacuated from the convent on the fifth floor of the Binney Wing. Police aided hospital security guards in controlling visitors and sight-seeing in the lobby and around the outside of the building.

The aerial fire truck, three pumps, emergency van, two ambulances and a fire engine were on hand.

"We are listing the official cause as 'malicious actions' but do not expect to prosecute the girl believed responsible, because of her mental state," Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente stated as he concluded his investigation of the fire's causes.

He said he was surprised this morning at how well the third

How hospital fire started

Tuesday evening's fire at St. Elizabeth Hospital was believed started by a 17-year-old mentally disturbed girl patient who was about to be released from the hospital.

Authorities said the girl wanted to leave and they were holding her until her parents could come and get her. They looked her in room 313, a seclusion room on the third floor of the Binney Wing, which is normally reserved for psychiatric care.

It was reported the girl was unruly, beating on the wire screen over the door window and attempting to cause a disturbance. A hospital official checked the room about 5:40 p.m. and found no signs of fire.

At 5:44 p.m., Paul Greaves, registered nurse, saw smoke "hanging on the ceiling" and found the seclusion room filled with smoke.

Greaves opened the door and found the girl on the floor. He pulled her out of the room and called for help and wet blankets. He attempted to put out the fire with wet blankets while firemen were summoned. Hospital authorities aided Greaves and used fire extinguishers until firemen arrived. Firefighters said they were hampered in their efforts to get the smoking foam-rubber mattress out of a window, because the windows were bolted shut.

The window of the seclusion room had to be broken to get the mattress out. The dense smoke filled the floor and firemen found it necessary to break a total of 12 windows to remove the smoke.

Hospital officials told Fire Chief Don Parente the fire was bolted shut as a safety precaution which was considered temporary until the new psychiatric care building is completed.

Parente said he is attempting to determine why the foam rubber mattress, which produced heavy billowing smoke, was used in the seclusion room, rather than the normal hospital mattresses, which are fire resistant.

Fire - started in a third-floor room by a psychiatric patient - filled parts of St. Elizabeth Hospital with dense smoke Tuesday evening and resulted in treatment of 13 persons for smoke inhalation.

Five of those treated were overcome and were admitted for further treatment. Seven others received treatment and were released, while another girl - in whose room the fire occurred - also was treated. Her name was not released.

Those admitted to the hospital included Acting Fire Capt. William Seago, 43, of 2804 St. Clair Ave.; Al Young, 36, hospital security officer of 32 Wilson Park Lane; Kenneth Alsberry, 35, security officer at the hospital, 4734 Lake Drive; Douglas Horton, 24, of the hospital housekeeping staff, 2512 Northbridge, and Jodi Hurt, RN, 30, hospital nursing staff, of Wood River.

Alsberry was reported the most seriously affected by the smoke. He was placed in an intensive care unit Tuesday night but was moved Wednesday to a regular room. He was reported in improved condition today.

Harry Hartman in ICU unit

Local attorney Harry Hartman, who suffered an apparent heart attack May 2, remained in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital today where his condition is listed as stable.

Hartman has been serving as attorney for the Madison County Special Sewer Committee which has been planning for the construction of sanitary sewers in Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships, and has been conducting private law practice in Granite City.

Clarence Baumeier dies; ex-Park Board member

Clarence Baumeier, 70, of 2111 Bryan Ave., a former Granite City Park Board commissioner for 18 years, died at 2:55 a.m. today at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

He served on the local park board from 1955 until 1972. Mr. Baumeier was born in Evansville, Ind., and was a lifelong resident of Granite City. He attended local schools and was employed for 30 years with the Laborer's Local 397. A member of St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, Mr. Baumeier also belonged to the Land of Lincoln Coin Club, of which he was a past president and vice-president.

He was a past president of the church Brotherhood and served two three-year terms on the church council.

Mr. Baumeier was a past president of the Protestant Welfare Association and currently was an active member of the board. He also belonged to Moose Lodge 272.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lillian Baumeier; two sons, Wayne and Richard Baumeier, both of Granite City; two brothers, Edward Baumeier of Cahokia and Elmer Baumeier of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Matilda Jarboe of Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. Carrie Durell of Granite City, and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

CLARENCE BAUMEIER

The two labor officials noted that expediting the project would ease the unemployment situation in this area as well as providing "needed" recreational facilities.

The request to the governor said: "The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council is centered in the city of Granite City, Illinois, and is composed of approximately 220 delegates from 39 different Labor Union Locals in the area. Our Local Member strength is about 17,000."

"The council has steel workers unions, building and construction trades unions, and local unions representing the service trades, machinists, chemical and atomic workers, teachers etc., all affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

Treatment plant problems

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
During Tuesday night's special Granite City Council meeting, representatives of the M.W. Architects and Engineers, Inc., consulting firm, were asked to explain why about 25 major problems at the Granite City Secondary Sewage Treatment Plant have not been resolved, despite repeated demands to the consultants and the contractors to correct the deficiencies.

Alderman Glen Sprankle noted that the Environmental Protection Agency has refused to approve the new plant and to give the city about $500,000 to $400,000 of grant money being withheld until the plant is accepted.

Sprankle said he has noticed about 25 major problems at the new plant, 20 of which he considers "very serious."

Ray C. Haller, principal designer of the plant for the M.W. firm, contended most of the problems are the result of failures of the contractor, G. L. Tarlton Construction Co., or of subcontractors on the project to use proper materials or to rectify problems.

Haller said some of the problems mentioned by Sprankle are the result of a temporary overload of sludge in the plant and will not be problems once the backlog of sludge has been removed.

He explained that only two of the four settling tanks are to be used at this time, but during a recent heavy rain, night operators opened the other two tanks, rather than using the stormwater treatment processing facility.

This caused four tanks to have sludge in the bottom, rather than the normal two, and the process of cleaning the excess sludge out of the plant has caused backlogs and breakdowns in other areas of the plant.

"Once we get this excess sludge out of there, the plant should run smoothly, just the way it was designed. We should then be able to meet the ERA standards for effluent in the discharge waters," Haller said. He presented the council with a list of six "construction cleanup items" he feels should be done immediately.

He suggested that about $15,000 of the $51,000 in funds being withheld from Tarlton by the city be used to correct the problems.

That proposal will be studied by the council next Tuesday night. His proposals included epoxy patching of a concrete wall atop a final tank which (Continued on Page 7)

Aid to pay energy bills is extended

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. Has there been an extension of the deadline for the application by persons on low or fixed income for the Emergency Energy Assistance Program?

A. Yes. The federal Community Services Administration has extended the deadline for persons on low or fixed income to receive utility bill assistance from May 1 until May 30. Two weeks ago, Lt. Governor Dave O'Neal sent a telegram to CSA Director Graciela Olivarez requesting an extension. The EEAP is operated by the federal government and coordinated this year through local community action agencies. Households at or below 125 percent of CSA poverty guidelines, and one or two person households for those aged 60 and over, who fall within the CSA poverty guidelines, are eligible for financial assistance not to exceed $250.

Q. What are the chances that the new Circuit Breaker bill will be approved by the legislature? A. The chances that Senate Bill 1817, which amends the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act, will pass the General Assembly and be signed into law are very good. Governor James R. Thompson proposed the measure.

The bill, which has already been endorsed by the Senate Revenue Committee, provides for a hike in the annual household income requirement for senior citizens. Under the proposed amendment, senior citizens whose total annual income is $12,000 or less would be eligible for circuit breaker. Currently, the limit is $10,000 or less. This will mean that an additional 35,000 persons will be able to take advantage of circuit breaker. Cost to the state will be $19 million.

S.B. 1817 would benefit all seniors within the income range of $12,000 regardless of whether they rent or own a home or reside in a nursing home facility. Although there is a good chance that this will pass the General Assembly, persons who are in favor of the bill should still contact their local legislators, as well as all legislators in the state to urge them to vote for it.

NO DISCRIMINATION

Lucco to run

State Rep. Joe Lucco of Edwardsville, who was narrowly defeated for the Democratic nomination for re-election, announced Tuesday that he will form a party to seek re-election in the 56th District.

Lucco said he is forming a state of candidates for senator and three representative posts, but stated, "The other candidates on my slate have agreed to submit their names to meet the legal requirements, but will only campaign in my behalf and not seek any votes for themselves."

He said he will announce the names of the other persons on his slate in about two weeks.

"I can not run as a Democrat, but by the law, must form a new party and run a complete legislative slate of a senator and three representatives. I must get petitions signed by 3,642 registered voters to form a new party."

"Any registered voter in the 56th Legislative District can sign the petitions or help me by presenting themselves as a candidate on my slate," Lucco stated in his announcement.

Lucco finished third in a four-way race for the district's two Democratic representative nominations, losing to Sam Wolf of Granite City by only 39% votes, according to an official vote recount.

Jim McKee of Alton was the top vote getter in that race.

Lucco blamed his defeat on campaigns by Wolf and McKee which asked voters to cast all three votes for one candidate, contending many of his supporters followed party recommendations and split their vote.

He said he believes his third-party campaign is the first in the state and the Illinois State Board of Elections did not even have the petitions he needs to obtain signatures for his slate.

Critics of the third-party effort contend Lucco is "breaking down the state's two-party system," since three Democrats could be elected from this district if the candidate is defeated by Lucco.

Sewer project starts Monday

The long-awaited groundbreaking for sanitary sewer construction in Namecki, Chouteau and Venice townships will take place at 9 a.m. Monday at North Street and the River Road (formerly Route 151).

Among those who will participate in the groundbreaking are members of the Madison County Special Sewer Committee, representatives of the G. H. Sternberg Co. and S. M. Wilson Co., co-contractors for the sewers, and officials of the townships through which the sewers will pass.

It is expected to take about two years to construct sanitary collectors and interceptor sewers from the area of Venice Township where the groundbreaking is scheduled through Namecki Township and Ponton Beach into Chouteau Township and Mitchell.

The lines will terminate in existing Granite City sewers on the Granite City Army Installation property where the sewerage will be treated in the city's primary and secondary treatment facilities.

LAW AND ORDER WEEK proclamation is signed by local mayors to honor law enforcement officers in the Quad-City area. From left are Earl Bueger, chairman of the Elks Lodge 1083 Law and Order Committee; Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice; Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City; Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison; and Harold Rush, exalted ruler of the local Elks Lodge.

Law and Order banquet Monday

Quad-City area law enforcement officers will be given some well-deserved praise during the eighth annual Granite City Elks Lodge Law and Order Week, which officially begins Monday.

The annual law and order banquet, which is open to the public, will be held Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant, Nameoki Road at Madison Avenue, with Silver Star recipient and director of the Illinois Law Enforcement Training Board, as the chief speaker.

Suarez also is the former chief of police of Springfield, Ill. Earl Bueger, banquet chairman, said a limited number of tickets at $12 a person are available by calling the Elks Lodge at 876-9530. Proceeds from the banquet will be contributed to the Sherwood Youth Camp of the Illinois Police Association.

Officers also will be honored by the Elks at a steak cookout Wednesday, May 17, which is a private function and is not open to the public.

Police Chiefs Ron Veizer of Granite City, Donald Bridick of Madison, Ralph D. Brawley of Venice, Roosevelt Bennett Jr. of Pontoon Beach and Madison County Sheriff John Maers will be in charge of cooking the steaks on an outdoor barbecue pit at that event.

Quad-City area mayors have signed a proclamation designating May 15 through 19 as Law and Order Week in this area. The text of that proclamation follows.

"Whereas, the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks of the United States of America has designated the week beginning 15 May as Law and Order Week to honor the Law Enforcement Officers for their accomplishments, and to give fitting recognition of their services to community, state and nation; and

"Whereas, the Granite City Lodge 1083 will sponsor an observance during that week in tribute to the law enforcement officers of this area; and
"Whereas, no event could be more deserving of our support and participation than one dedicated to these men and women for the order and protection they have given us in these times of struggle and unrest in our society; and
"Whereas, to achieve this worthy objective they have risked their lives in going beyond the call of duty in their dedication to their responsibilities in preserving the safety of our communities; and
"Whereas, in the years ahead they will continue to go unobserved and unrewarded for their effort in enforcing our laws that were established to preserve the Constitution of the United States of America and the Bill of Rights, which have served to establish the finest system of government in the world;

"Now, therefore, I, Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, I, William Ebersold, mayor of Venice, I, Mike Sasyk, mayor of Madison, and I, Floyd David Moss, mayor of Pontoon Beach, do hereby proclaim the week beginning 15 May, 1978, as Law and Order Week in our respective communities and hereby urge all departments of government, civic, fraternal, and patriotic groups and citizens in general to participate wholeheartedly in its observance.

"Now, therefore, I, Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, I, William Ebersold, mayor of Venice, I, Mike Sasyk, mayor of Madison, and I, Floyd David Moss, mayor of Pontoon Beach, do hereby proclaim the week beginning 15 May, 1978, as Law and Order Week in our respective communities and hereby urge all departments of government, civic, fraternal, and patriotic groups and citizens in general to participate wholeheartedly in its observance.

continued to grow, the Niedringhaus family, which built both plants, decided that expansion was necessary. They bought land in 1902 for a new plant and town—at the present site of Granite City.

The text of the Granite City Steel days proclamation follows:

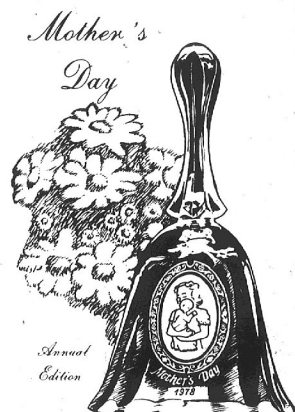

"Whereas, during the year of 1978, the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation is observing the 100th anniversary of its founding as the Granite Iron Rolling Mills, and whereas, the Granite City Steel Division will conduct a public Centennial open house program on May 19 and 20;

"And whereas, we the inhabitants of the Granite City area trace the beginnings of our community to the founders of the Granite Iron Rolling Mills, and whereas, the economy of the Tri-Cities area has always been closely tied to the success and growth of Granite City Steel;

"Now, therefore, I, Paul Schuler, mayor of the city of Granite City, do hereby proclaim the 19th and 20th days of the month of May, 1978, as Granite City Steel days, and call upon all citizens to join in saluting Granite City Steel, and its people, and in celebrating this Centennial event with them."

Cong. Price honored by Air Force group

Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd) was selected as "Man of the Year" by the H. H. Arnold Chapter of the Air Force Association. The award was presented during ceremonies held on Long Island, N. Y.

In his acceptance remarks, Congressman Price stressed the need for a strong national defense. "I do not believe that the American people want less than maximum security for their families," Congressman Price stated.

"Rather, I believe Americans want the United States to retain its position as a world power and a leader in the defense of the free world."

Congressman Price said that this sentiment was shared by Members of Congress and cited as an example of this concern the approval of a $37.9 billion defense budget authorization by the House Committee on Armed Services.

Price has chaired this committee since 1970 and has served on the committee since he was first elected to Congress.

"Although cutting back on procurement of weapons systems would trim the budget, I feel that the short range economic benefits would be far outweighed by the possible consequences of such an action," Congressman Price explained.

The Air Force Association is composed of present and past members of the U.S. Air Force and other citizens interested in American air power. Previous winners of the H. H. Arnold Chapter's award include Senator Barry Goldwater, Congressman Lester Wolf of New York, Congressman Bob Sikes of Florida and Harry I. Davis, former Undersecretary of the Air Force.

George B. Shaw, 44, of 2200 Elm St., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and disorderly conduct and Raymond E. Shelley, 48, of 1021 Madison Ave., Madison, was charged with disorderly conduct after a disturbance at Pizza Hut Restaurant, 1533 Johnson Road, Monday.

Police were called and alleged finding one man yelling at a black man in the restaurant, using racial names.

Witnesses said another man had just left the restaurant, saying he was going to get a gun to shoot the black man. Officers saw a man running behind the restaurant toward Terrace Lane and stopped him near a car in which he had just placed something, they reported.

They said they checked the car and found a .38 caliber pistol containing six live rounds on the front floorboard.

Madison County Board Member Homer Boothman of State Park Place has been indicted by a county grand jury on misdemeanor charges of assault, aggravated assault, reckless conduct and reckless driving.

The charges stem from an April 8 incident in State Park when Boothman allegedly attempted to run over political adversary Joseph Boyer of State Park with a pickup truck. Boyer said he was standing next to a parked car talking to the driver on College Street when Boothman's truck passed, with Boothman's son, Tim, driving, and Tim told Boyer to get out of the street, it was

The truck then stopped at the next street corner where Homer Boothman, who was a passenger, switched places with his son, turned the truck around and came down the street at a high rate of speed, swerving at Boyer, he alleges.

Boyer said the truck's side mirror struck his arm before he was able to jump on the hood of the car of the person to whom he Boothman, who has been free since posting a $100 cash bond after the initial incident, denied that he was driving at high speed or that he swerved his truck at Boyer.

The grand jury found no basis for accusations of attempted murder, aggravated battery and battery and issued "no-true" bills on those charges.

A federal grand jury was in its second day of deliberations today in Springfield, but no indictments are anticipated until Thursday, May 18, sources indicated today.

There is speculation the grand jury may be considering allegations of governmental corruption in Madison County, but the topics under federal consideration are kept secret and several grand juries have been meeting recently on cases that are not the state's.

A source said that the federal judge who works with the grand juries is attending a judicial conference near Lake Geneva, Wis., this week, so it unlikely that any indictments will be

While indictments could be issued on a short warning Monday or early next week, sources indicate the judge and circuit clerk's office have been asked to be available for indictments Thursday, May 18, it was disclosed.

Meanwhile, some federal officials are believed to be in this area again this week checking some records and searching for others the grand jury is believed seeking.

The ambulance and emergency van were there on stand-by and were not needed, a fire department spokesman said. Back-up equipment was "ready to roll" should there be another fire in the city while the emergency at the hospital was under way.

Treatment

broke from uneven weight on the wheels of a traveling bridge. The bridge has been repaired, but the contractors refused to repair the damage until they receive their final payments.

Peeling paint on steel troughs in two primary settling tanks should be removed and the troughs recoated with asphalt paint, he suggested. He contended Mobil Corp., the supplier of the paint, inspected the peeling problem in October but has declined to issue a report on it.

The other recommendations dealt with electrical and mechanical problems in several containers and pumps and Haller said most have been temporarily repaired and are in operation.

Asked what can be done to return the incinerator to operation to burn the solid wastes, Haller said use of the incinerator is not practical at this time, since it is less expensive to dump the sludge at a landfill.

He said the incinerator was designed to burn wastes with a high organic content and more than half of the highly volatile content of the proposed wastes was lost when the former Miles Laboratories corn milling plant moved from Granite City.

As a result of the loss of the high organic waste content from the corn milling plant, attempts to use the incinerator on the remaining waste proved too expensive, since large amounts of fuel oil had to be added to the waste to get it to burn.

"We will have to use the incinerator some day, because the days of landfills are numbered," Haller stated, and suggested the city was able to construct the incinerator at a much lower cost than to have built several years to build it.

The city council also assured that the incinerator will only have to meet the air pollution standards in effect when it was built, and not the more stringent standards expected to be placed on incinerators in the future.

Haller also said there is no way to make the sludge burn without adding oil or some volatile material and that the city is much better off at this time to haul it to the landfill.

Aaron Pierson, vice-president of the M.W. firm, said his firm has identified several problems in the plant and has pointed them out to the contractor, subcontractor or supplier. He said the contractor is responsible, with the Tarlton company allegedly either directly or indirectly responsible for most.

"Tarlton is doing nothing to correct the problems," he contended.

Spunkle said the last meeting of the sanitation committee had with Tarlton representatives ended with no progress. "They only wanted the $51,000 we have withheld from them," he said.

He added the city attorney, Lance Callis, has been studying the impasse and is considering the possibility of filing suit against the contractor.

"The important step now is to get EPA approval. We can't wait for lawyers to settle in court who is to patch some concrete. We should do it now."

"We want permission to use about $15,000 of the contractor's money to repair some of these problems," he concluded.

Asked if the plant will be able to meet EPA discharge standards after about two years when sanitary sewers from Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships empty into the secondary treatment plant, the officials agreed it would.

"The sludge buildup is a temporary thing which will be solved. The township sewage will not be enough to phase this plant," Pierson stated.

Ernie Hubbard, acting plant superintendent, said instructions are being given to the employees and supervisors to see that such sludge buildups do not take place in the future.

Hubbard agreed that once the sludge buildup is eliminated and the suggested repairs made, the plant should be able to meet EPA discharge standards consistently.

Long Lake seeks new fire hydrant

The Long Lake Fire Protection District Board of Trustees approved a resolution Tuesday evening to have the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company place a fire hydrant at the corner of Holly and Ave. avenues, as part of a hydrant program funded by a grant from Nameoki Township.

The board also began preparation of its 1978-79 fiscal year budget, but has not yet completed that budget.

of the hospital; Bernard P. Finney, safety director at the hospital; Sister Mary George of the hospital lab; Capt. George Moran, acting shift commander of the Granite City fire department; David Morrison and Kevin Payton, both of the hospital maintenance staff, and Paul Greaves, RN, of the hospital staff.

The hospital staff evacuated 127 patients from the first, second, third and fourth floors and the fifth-floor convent; and the third floor of the new Doctors Wing which has a connecting corridor to the Binney Wing.

Due to what was described by one observer as "a highly trained hospital staff," the evacuation took little more than 10 minutes. The entire staff of the hospital has regular emergency disaster training.

At first numerous visitors and "sightseers" caused minor problems and overcrowding of the lobby area, but hospital personnel and Granite City police kept evacuation procedures in an orderly manner.

The patients evacuated from the smoke-filled area were moved into the hospital lobby, cafeteria and other parts of the building that were not affected.

Firemen said they received their first call at 5:44 p.m.

While the fire in a mattress in Room 313 was extinguished quickly, the hospital area filled quickly with heavy smoke.

The fire damaged part of the room, but considerable smoke damage was caused in other parts of the building. Hospital personnel said a "massive cleanup" job was needed.

Workers began immediately to clean the building.

Firefighting equipment, police cars and other emergency equipment created a major traffic jam, as police blocked off Niedringhaus Avenue in the hospital area.

At one point all available police cars in Granite City were on duty at the hospital. Madison police and firemen were on standby in the event of any other emergencies in Granite City.

Abduction attempt

An attempted abduction was reported by an 11-year-old Granite City girl at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday, who said she was passing a car, parked near a confectionary on Rock Road, when a man partially stopped out and grabbed her right wrist.

The man stated, "I'm Doug... and Doug... is my best friend. I am going to take you to Doug's ex-wife's house."

The girl recognized the last name of the second Doug mentioned as a friend of her mother, and knew his ex-wife reportedly lives in California.

The man tried to pull the girl inside the vehicle and she struck her thigh on the car frame. The 11-year-old then leaned over and bit the man on the right knee, she said.

Another man came out of the confectionary at this time and yelled at the man in the car to let go of the girl. The assailant then left the scene, traveling west on Rock Road. The youngster suffered contusions to the right thigh and scratches on her right wrist.

Burglars damage pipes and wiring

Water pipes and wiring were damaged in a burglary in the office and storage area of the Masco Car Wash, 2222 Madison Ave., reported at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Entry into the building was gained through an overhead door and then by climbing water pipes to an aperture near the ceiling (through which passes pipes and wires).

Taken were a radio, valued at $30, air fresheners, $8, cleaning fluids, $4, and four towels. Loss through damage to the property was not listed.

At SIUE, Dr. Cherrick will assume the position vacated by Dr. Stanley Hazen on July 1, 1977. Dr. Yavli Yavli, who has served as acting dean since Dr. Hazen's resignation, will continue in the position until Sept. 1.

In announcing the appointment, Vice President Lazerson expressed confidence that Dr. Cherrick possesses professional and personal qualities of leadership that will insure the continuing progressive development of the University program of education in dental medicine.

President Kenneth A. Shaw commented: "We are delighted to have Dr. Cherrick with us. He is an outstanding teacher who

Sun Day poster winners

More than 700 regional grade school, junior high and high school students participated in the "Sun Day" poster contest sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The objective of the contest was to encourage solar energy awareness among school children, according to Clyde Fisher, assistant director of off-campus programs at SIUE.

A model contest was held in conjunction with the poster contest. Participants were to design and construct a model displaying a solar energy system or its use.

Cash prize were awarded to the winners of the contest. First place winners received $15, second place $10 and third place $5.

Judging the entries were Ron Bollinger, representing the Bank of Edwardsville; Paul Burns, director of the Office of Off-Campus Programs at SIUE; Jane Goldacker, graduate assistant in elementary education; and Kay Kendall, an Edwardsville environmentalist.

Other judges were: Jerry Popp, chairman of the department of foundations of education at SIUE; Panos Kokoropoulos, associate professor in engineering and technology; Marcia Pullin, graduate assistant in foundations of education; and Larry Tucker, Alton school teacher.

The contest was divided into four divisions: grades 1-4, grades 5-6, grades 7-8, and a model division for high school students.

Winners of the "Sun Day" contest in Granite City included: Bill Rickert of St. Elizabeth School (second place, grade 2); Amy Collins of St. Elizabeth School (first place, grade 5); Valerie Sobol of St. Elizabeth School (third place, grade 5); Gordon Williams of Grigsby Jr. High (third place, grade 8).

Variety wheat plots established

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County Farm Advisor
Plot signs were placed on the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service wheat variety plots in Madison County last week. The Extension staff. One variety plot is on the Roland Malan farm near Highland and the second plot is in the Clara Troyan farm near Moro. The wheat plots on the Troyan farm were planted by Dennis Gvillo of Moro.

Madison County farmers are encouraged to stop by the wheat variety plots during May and early June to compare the varieties in the plots.

To locate the wheat plots on the Malan farm, go two miles east of Highland on the St. Rose Road to Geiger Road. Go south on the Geiger Road one and one-half miles and then one quarter mile east. The plots are on the south side of the road.

To locate the wheat plots on the Troyan farm, go one and one quarter miles south of Dorsey on the Moro-Dorsey Road.
Signs identify each variety in the plots. The varieties in each plot include Arthur 71, Oasis, Beau, Abe, Blueboy II, Double Crop, Hart, Arthur, Roland and Pioneer S-76. The plot planted by Dennis Gvillo contains Coker 76-23, Coker 747, and Coker 78-15 in addition to the varieties listed above.

Roland and the three Coker varieties are new in the plots this year.
Roland was developed at the University of Illinois and was distributed to certified seed producers in 1977. Roland is shorter in height and two days later in maturity than Abe and Oasis.
The Coker varieties are private varieties developed by Coker Pedigree Seed Company from Hartsville, South Carolina.

The ideal time to harvest alfalfa is after full bud to first bloom stage. Any delay in harvest after this period will cause a decrease in digestible dry matter and protein. Actual hay fields may increase until the alfalfa is in full bloom, but the digestibility of the crop declines faster than the yield increases.

For the highest yields of digestible dry matter and protein, harvest red clover at the early flowering stage. Harvest grass hay crops like orchardgrass or fescue just before the heads emerge.
Alfalfa is the main forage crop grown in Madison County. Alfalfa is a vigorous and productive crop. Like all farm crops, alfalfa is subject to yield loss from disease, insect injury and nutrient deficiencies. Prompt and accurate diagnosis of a problem can allow our Madison County producers the chance to take steps to correct the situation.

To help the alfalfa grower, a publication entitled the Alfalfa Analyst is available through the Extension Service office at a small cost. The publication contains colored pictures covering alfalfa diseases, insect problems and nutrient deficiencies.

Key energy bills in legislature

Key energy bills are moving through the General Assembly legislative process, according to Representative Joe Lucero (D-Edwardsville), chairman of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission.

House Bill 3054, which Lucero is sponsoring, has been approved by the House Environmental, Energy and Natural Resources Committee, and is to be introduced on the House floor for action next week.

This bill is an energy conservation measure which requires the Pollution Control Board to adopt a regulation allowing for shut off of natural gas-fired after burners during winter months, used by industry for hydrocarbon emission control.

According to Lucero, "The After Burner bill could conceivably save two to three billion cubic feet of natural gas per year."

Lucero said the other energy bills now receiving General Assembly consideration are important to the state's economy as well as to the energy picture.

O'Neal to speak at breakfast meeting at BAC

In addition to Lt. Governor O'Neal, Lisa Drake, consumer affairs adviser to the Manufactured Housing Institute, will speak.

The breakfast is scheduled for the second day of the trade show. May 18 and 19 is reserved to dealers and suppliers of the manufactured housing trade; however, the 50 modular homes on display will be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday, May 20 and 21.

Public officials from throughout the area have been invited to attend the breakfast.

Plumbing-health relationship

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

One of the things many of us take for granted in this day and age, is good plumbing. Plumbing is a subject that is seldom mentioned in every-day conversation, and, when it is, it is sometimes in a joking way.

But, did you know there is a direct relationship between plumbing and health? And this relationship was recognized many thousands of years ago. Historians tell us that, in the tribes of prehistoric man, rules against the fouling of family or tribal quarters were almost universal.

Archaeologic evidence and other historic records show that, as early as 3,000 B.C., the Minoans and the Creteans had constructed drainage systems, water closets and water-flushing systems. Herodotus tells us that the Egyptians of about 1,000 B.C. constructed earth closets and public drainage pipes.

The ancient Grecian Civilization developed personal hygiene to a degree never approached before or since.

And the Roman Empire, at its zenith, had laws providing for public sanitary facilities and safe water supply. During the Middle Ages and on into the 18th and 19th centuries, however, sanitary practices fell by the way. As a result, many millions of people, especially in Europe and Asia, lived in filthy, unhealthy conditions.

This period of history saw the horrors of cholera epidemics, bubonic plague, typhoid, diphtheria and other diseases which wiped out large portions of the world's population.

Although modern plumbing has eliminated the problems of sanitation our ancestors had to face, we do know that improperly installed plumbing can cause widespread disease — even epidemics. Back-siphonage, back-pressure and by-cross connections can result in disease organisms entering the drinking water. Toxic gases can escape due to improper installation of plumbing.

In order to protect your health, Illinois law requires that those who plan, inspect, install, alter, extend, repair or maintain plumbing systems should be persons of proven skill.

State law also says that a guide for minimum control of plumbing materials and fixtures, the design of plumbing systems and the proper construction and installation of plumbing systems are essential for the protection of public health. In order to insure plumbing skill and to establish good plumbing practice, the Illinois Department of Public Health licenses plumbers.

The state law does not prohibit the occupant or owner of a single family residence from planning, installing, altering or repairing his plumbing system — as long as his work complies with the Illinois State Plumbing Code. And, your do-it-yourself plumbing is subject to inspection by the state health department.

Also, keep in mind that the employees of any firm which engages in plumbing, must be licensed plumbers or apprentices and a licensed apprentice may, under state law, install plumbing only under the supervision of a licensed plumber.

So, although most of us tend to take our plumbing for granted, remember that properly installed plumbing is important to your health.

Philosophy for children program at SIUE Tuesday

A program on "Philosophy for Children" will be presented at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Tuesday, May 16, at 2:30 p.m. in the Dialectics Lab, Room 3421 of Peck Classroom Building.

William Embiom, associate professor in the department of philosophical studies, and Jerome Popp of the department of educational foundations will be the featured speakers. The program is sponsored by the Philosophy Club at SIUE. Embiom will summarize the work on philosophy for children by Prof. Matthew Lipman of the Institute for the Advancement of Philosophy for Children, Montclair State College, N.J.

"The presentation will include a brief account of the materials used by the program. The purposes and results achieved where 'The Discovery of Harry Stillemeier' and 'Lisa' have been used will be discussed," Embiom stated.

Popp will describe the work of Laurence Kohlberg in his "Moral Stage Theory" as it relates to philosophy for children and will present film strips which illustrate Kohlberg's views.

"Essentially, it is expected that three questions will be addressed: How is philosophy for children conceived? What are the pros and cons of such a program? What is involved in implementing such a program?" Embiom said. The presentation is open to the public at no charge.

GREGORY V. MENKE

G.V. Menke joins staff at GC Steel

Granite City Steel announced today that Gregory V. Menke has joined the organization as superintendent-blast furnaces and sinter plant. He replaces William R. Corzilius, who will retire this summer.

Menke returns to the area after nearly 26 years with Wisconsin Steel Co. in Chicago, where he most recently served as blast furnace superintendent.

Born and reared in St. Louis, Menke graduated from the Rolla School of Mines (now the University of Missouri-Rolla) in 1952 with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. He also received a master's degree in business administration at the University of Chicago in 1972.

At Wisconsin Steel, Menke spent the first two and a half years of his career in maintenance, then the remainder in various supervisory positions in blast furnace production.

Menke and his wife, Agnes, will be moving their residence to the St. Louis area shortly. They have eight children.

The Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation operates the only blast furnace facilities in the metropolitan area.

Chouteau board studies town hall equipment

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees met briefly Monday night and reviewed progress on equipping the kitchen of the new township community center.

It was noted that the new cabinets in the kitchen have been installed and a committee of women has been authorized to purchase needed utensils. The committee purchased pots, pans, tableware, and other needed items for the kitchen Wednesday morning.

The kitchen and utensils are available to groups which rent the community center, if arrangements are made in advance.

The board Monday night also agreed to begin preparation of the 1978-79 fiscal year town budgets as soon as a meeting can be arranged with the attorney to discuss tax levies and rates and other information needed for the budgets.

Rites for sister of GC resident

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday, May 5, at a funeral home in Kansas City, Mo., for Mrs. Georgia A. Oaks, 84, of 3839 Walnut St., Kansas City, a sister of Mrs. Hazel Aichison, of Granite City.

She died May 3 at the Swope Ridge Health Care Center in Kansas City.

Mrs. Oaks was born in Rolla, Mo., and resided in Granite City 25 years. During that time she was employed at Union Starch and Refining Co. and also was the co-owner of the Copsedge Confectionary, formerly located on Illinois Avenue in West Granite City. She had lived in Kansas City area for 55 years.

Other survivors include one son; two daughters; another sister; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Burial was in Mount Washington Cemetery.

CAR RECOVERED

When Pat Coleman, 2248 Lee Ave., reported the theft of her sister's 1970 Ford from the rear of the house at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday, police said the car had been found abandoned at 20th and Adams streets at 11 p.m. the previous day. The vehicle, owned by Naomi Whitlock, had struck a telephone pole before being abandoned, police said.

Proposes food stamp reforms

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has proposed food stamp reforms to eliminate over one million participants with the highest incomes, and to make the program more accessible to several million poor not currently participating, especially the elderly and working poor in Illinois and nationwide.

Currently, more than $27.9 million is spent in Illinois each month to provide food stamp benefits to over 85,000 food stamp participants throughout the state. As of February, approximately 17 million people participate in the program nationwide.

Families owning luxury cars would be made ineligible for food stamps, and persons convicted of food stamp fraud would be disqualified for up to two years. Some students would be dropped from the program, while others would have to sign up for work half-time to get food stamps.

The new regulations also would do away with the requirement that participants pay a certain amount in cash to receive food stamps. Under the proposed new regulations, a family currently required to pay $28 a month for $174 in food stamps — or a net benefit of $79 — would simply receive the $79 in stamps without having come up with cash first. This action was proposed by President Carter, who said some poor families are unable to get food stamps because they cannot make the required cash payment.

The proposed changes would implement reform food stamp legislation passed by Congress last year.

"We expect the changes to be of particular benefit to the elderly and working poor," Secretary Bergland said. "More elderly and low-income working families will now be able to participate and improve their nutrition."

The Secretary said the new law and the proposed regulations, were designed to "strike a fair balance" in food aid to the needy.

"The changes would assure that those with the highest income — those not significantly in need of food stamps — would no longer qualify, while we do a better job of reaching those who truly are in need," Secretary Bergland said.

The proposed rules lower the net income levels for food stamps to the federal poverty level and simplify eligibility determinations by replacing most itemized deductions now used in the program with standard deductions.

The rules are intended to take effect late this year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to accept comments on the proposals until June 16, and to issue final rules this summer. States will then be allowed several months to prepare for implementation of the rules. Insurance of the proposed regulations follows 17 public hearings conducted by the department last fall in urban and rural communities across the country to assure public input into the rule making process. Comments on the proposal may be sent to Nancy Snyder, acting deputy administrator for Family Nutrition Programs, Food and Nutrition Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. The Department plans to issue additional proposed rules to implement remaining provisions of the new food stamp law in coming months. Future rule makings will include provisions on state plans of operation, accessibility of services, outreach, special procedures for use in disasters, and operation of the food stamp and commodity distribution programs on Indian reservations.

Herman Peters dies at home

Herman V. Peters, 76, of 2712 Ceyoga St., was found dead at his home at 5:25 a.m. Tuesday of a gunshot wound and was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg at 5:45 a.m.

Officers said they found a note signed by him on the kitchen table near his body. They said a 22 caliber rifle was found beside the body. He suffered a wound to his head.

His wife, Pearl, said she found him on the kitchen floor. There will be an inquest.

He was born in Ozark County, Mo., and lived in this area 41 years. Mr. Peters was employed as a laborer with Laborer's Local 397, until he retired in 1965. He was a member of a Masonic Lodge in Lattin, Mo.

Other survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Sonny (Ruth) Hochul of Granite City, two sons, Harvey Peters of Granite City, and Ray Peters of Mitchell; three sisters, Mrs. Bessie Davis, Richerest, Calif., Mrs. Mabel Dye of Granite City, and Mrs. Sylvia Decker of Yachma, Wash., and seven grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Plan day in camp for elderly

"Senior citizens will have an opportunity to participate in a wide variety of summer activities during Senior Citizen Day at the Western 4-H Camp in Jacksonville," according to Jan Perkins, Madison County Cooperative Extension adviser. "They will find this day at camp quite different from regular recreational-type activities," Mrs. Perkins said. Activities will include square dancing, swimming and nature hikes as well as inexpensive crafts like candle dipping and leather tooling.

Mrs. Perkins added, "Some of the senior citizens like to go fishing from boats or to the shore of the lake. Others may just like to sit under the shade of the trees, watching an ongoing game of horseshoes."

This year, Senior Citizen Day is June 5 from 9:30 to 4 p.m. The registration fee, which includes a buffet-style lunch, is $4. The Western Illinois 4-H Camp is located 5 miles S.W. of Jacksonville off of Rt. 67 on the east shore of Lake Jacksonville.

For details Quad-Cityans may contact Doug Thompson at the 4-H Camp by writing to Western Camp, Rt. 5, Jacksonville, Ill. 62850.

Cannabis charge

David W. Hackethal Jr., 17, of Rural Route Two, Box 786, Granite City, has been served by Granite City police with a warrant alleging unlawful possession of cannabis.

Hackethal and another young man allegedly were stopped in a pickup truck which violated a stop sign at St. Clair Avenue and Nameoki Road March 14. Officers alleged finding a large plastic bag containing two smaller plastic sacks of cannabis and a scale inside the truck cab.

Hackethal was charged at that time with violating a stop sign and the two were released pending laboratory analysis of the marijuana. After laboratory results were received, the Madison County state's attorney's office refused to authorize charges against one of the youths, charging only Hackethal, driver of the truck.

More credit for farm exports gaining momentum in Congress

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The efforts to boost U.S. agricultural exports by expanding credit to foreign nations is gaining momentum in Congress, and Sen. Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., is among the pushers.

Stevenson, chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on International Finance, has introduced a bill to provide intermediate credit (three to 10 years for payment) to foreign buyers.

The junior senator from Illinois also has offered legislation to extend credit to communist countries, with the exception of the Soviet Union.

He sees there initiatives as steps that would reduce the U.S. surplus, alleviate political instability and hunger abroad and lessen the U.S. trade imbalance (last year the U.S. imported $27 billion more in all products than it exported).

Stevenson has a natural interest in expanding exports. Illinois, which leads the nation in corn and soybean production, exports more than half of its soybeans and more than a third of its corn.

But his concerns are more than parochial.

Stevenson points out that the U.S. ships about a sixth of the world's total agricultural products. About 100 million acres — nearly one in three of harvested cropland in the U.S. — are devoted to production for export.

Foreign markets take two thirds of U.S. wheat and rice production nearly half of the soybeans, about one-fourth of the feed grains and nearly two-fifths of cattle hides.

With U.S. prices down, farmers and ranchers may be selling more abroad but making less this year, Stevenson said.

U.S. farm exports this year are expected to increase to a record 110 million tons, but the export value of the commodities may be only $22.5 billion, $1.5 billion below the record level of 1977.

"This level of exports is simply not high enough to absorb the crops that American farmers produce," Stevenson said.

"It will not help the farmers currently caught in a tragic cost-price squeeze."

Stevenson's intermediate credit bill is aimed at attracting more foreign buyers by filling the gap between the three year credit available through the Federal Commodity Credit Corp. and the long term credit available to developing nations under the "Food for Peace" law.

His proposal to offer credit to communist countries, excluding the USSR, is aimed at attracting such potential customers as the Peoples Republic of China without upsetting the Jackson-Vanik legislation.

In 1974, Sen. Henry "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., and Rep. Charles Vanik, D-Ohio, steered through Congress a trade act blocking credit to countries, like the USSR, that impede emigration of Jews.

Stevenson's proposal would set up the mechanism for allowing the president to waive the law, and Congress to approve, a list of communist countries which could receive credit, while preserving the Jackson-Vanik restrictions against credit for the Soviets.

The conduct of the Soviet Union in Africa at the moment is not one to warrant apparent trade concessions and certainly not a suggestion that its policy on emigration is acceptable," Stevenson said.

We should not, however, let Soviet conduct frustrate better trade relations with other countries that pose no threat to U.S. interests.

"By doing so, we merely force their continued dependence on the Soviet Union and punish ourselves," Stevenson said.

Stevenson also noted the expansion of exports has an impact which on the U.S. economy goes beyond the farm.

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that in 1974 each dollar of agricultural exports stimulated an additional 96 cents of output in the national economy," Stevenson said.

An estimated 1.2 million full-time civilian jobs were related to agricultural exports in 1974, he said. Of these, slightly more than half were non-farm jobs directly or indirectly related to the assembling, processing and distribution of agricultural goods for export.

It seems probable that Stevenson's proposals — or other similar measures pending in the House and Senate ultimately will be approved by Congress.

When the recent emergency farm aid bill was defeated in the House, Congressional critics of current farm policy argued the way to help the farmers is by improving exports, not by boosting federal subsidies.

Stevenson's legislation and the other similar bills are intended to do just that.

'Sun Week' a success—Lucco

The sun was hiding much of the time of the state-wide celebration of "Sun Week," but Representative Joe Lucco, (D-Edwardsville), chairman of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, was not disturbed.

Lucco said, "Outside of the temporary lack of sunlight, the "Sun Week" activities were a remarkable success. For the first time, the general public is aware that solar energy is a present practical reality, as well as one of the most promising future alternative energy resources to replace our dwindling supplies of natural gas and oil."

Lucco noted two activities involving the commission, which were on the "Sun Week" calendar.

Commission vice chairman, Senator John Nimrod (R-Skokie), chaired a seminar entitled "Technical Aspects of Solar Energy," in the auditorium of the First National Bank of Chicago.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies for the Johnny Bruce solar residence at Champaign, were held. Donald G. Handy, staff director of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, state legislators and other officials participated.

Recalling his earlier public prediction that the sun would be out in all its glory during "Sun Week," Lucco said he had no explanation for his failure as a weatherman, other than that perhaps the sun was in hiding and suffering a bit from stage fright from all the attention it has been getting.

$15,610 fines distributed

A total of $15,610 in fines collected by the Madison County circuit clerk's office during April has been distributed to Quad-City area municipalities and village.

The fines were among $105,926 distributed by Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell during April. Granite City received $15,610, Madison $2,080, Pontoon Beach $1,265 and Venice $225. Portell said. The county government got $25,475, state overweigh $27,582 and the Illinois Commerce Commission $1,970. For the first time in many months, Granite City led the cities in fines collected, beating the normal top city of Alton, which had $9,832.

Stardom beckons Madison girl, 13

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Angela Kaye is the professional name adopted by a Madison girl, who won a nationwide search for talent and received a recording contract with American Sound Records of Nashville, Tenn., the contest sponsors, as the top prize.

The youthful singer and musician is talented Angela Kaye Grupos, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grupos, 1302 Washington Ave., Madison.

During the weekend, the contest winner went to Nashville and cut her first professional recording due for American Sound Records.

Two songs were recorded by Angela Kaye—"Barbie Doll" by Bobby Braddock and "It Hurts" by Bill Anderson. Both songwriters are widely known in the music world.

An eighth grade pupil at St. Mary-St. Mark's Parochial School in Madison, Angela Kaye is an "A" student there. She is planning to attend Assumption High School next fall.

She began collecting her share of the spotlight at a very early age (2½), and has continued to establish herself as a talented vocalist, musician and dancer over the years by capturing contest titles, appearing in television commercials and performances at state fairs and similar public events.

Angela Kaye made her solo dancing and vocal debut at the tender age of 3½ years before an audience of over 1,000 people at the Sherman House, Chicago.

She has been dancing since she was 2½-years old and has been studying violin from the age of 5 with the String Development Group at Edwardsville.

As a performer, Angela Kaye has appeared with the prestigious St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, along with 12 other violinists who were selected from more than 200 aspiring musicians.

In addition to her endeavors in the field of serious music, she also plays "fiddle" in the country manner and has entertained on numerous occasions in the classical and country music style.

At age 5, Angela Kaye was crowned Miss LaPetite of Illinois and represented the state in the national finals at Dallas, Tex.

She won the "Our Little Miss of Southern Illinois" contest at 6 years of age. The same year, she was the first place winner at the Missouri State Fair in a talent contest open to all ages.

In 1970, Angela Kaye was the only child performer in a country western show at Council Plaza, St. Louis, appearing alongside Charlie Lovin and Diane McCall.

She was awarded the Illinois State Instrumental Award in the "Little Miss Talent" contest in 1974, and was a guest performer at both the Missouri State Fair and the DuQuoin State Fair that year.

Angela Kaye has made television commercials and has appeared on TV talk shows and other shows in the St. Louis metropolitan area, including Mr. Patchers, Reed Farrel Show and Gorky's Colorama. She also has been interviewed on radio.

In 1970, Angela Kaye was flown to Los Angeles, Calif., by the McMillan Agency, to be interviewed for a possible television series.

Her latest television appearance was on the new View-A-Date Game Show, a possible syndicated production, as the show's model.

Several articles reporting her successes as a youngster have been published in the Press-Record, metropolitan area newspapers and the nationally distributed Chicago Polish-American paper.

Angela Kaye's devotion to music has not precluded many other interests typical of a young girl.

She is active in the Girl Scout Cadet program, cheerleading and competitive swimming and volleyball.

Her artistry on the violin is supplemented with her gifted accomplishments on the piano, organ and guitar. She also enjoys needlecraft work.

Audiences in Dallas, Chicago, Los Angeles, Burbank and Columbia, Ohio have applauded the local girl's polished performances.

Soon, with release and distribution of her first recording, the entire country will have an opportunity to assess Angela Kaye's talents.

Connie L. Jackson and Joseph McNeish are wed

Miss Connie L. Jackson became the bride of Joseph McNeish in an afternoon ceremony on April 15 at St. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church in Collinsville.

Father Robert Morris performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock before an altar banked with arrangements of spring flowers in rainbow colors.

Burning blue tapers in branched candelabra, entwined with greenery, illuminated the white carpeted aisle and sanctuary.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jackson, 2554 Ivy Lane. The groom resides in Granite City, and is a son of Mr.

and Mrs. Eugene McNeish, 211 N. Bluff Road, Collinsville. Organist Cynthia Ungerth accompanied before she sang, "Ave Maria," "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Day, by Day," "I Believe," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "There's a Love."

After the ceremony a reception was given at the VFW Hall in Collinsville, with Anna Szurek presiding over the guest book.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a long old fashioned style gown created in white organza and Chantilly lace.

Long lace trimmed bishop sleeves were set into the fitted bodice fashioned with a V-neckline, and natural waistline, accented with Chantilly lace and sequins.

Her bouffant skirt featured tiers of organza edged in matching lace which cascaded into a cathedral length train.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was bordered with lace and attached to a pearly lace Juliet cap. She carried a formal cascade bouquet of white and blue roses, stephanotis, miniature carnations, baby's breath and tied with lace streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cindy Worthen and bridesmaids included Linda Rinehart, Susan Stewart and Cathy Jackson, a cousin of the bride.

They wore identical southern belle style dresses created in rainbow colors of blue, mint green, orchid and pink organza. The halter designed bodices had V-necklines and were complemented with matching caprioles with high collars edged in lace.

Their very full skirts were fashioned with tiers of ruffles, bordered with lace. Each attendant wore a picture hat and held a bouquet of white roses, carnations, daisies and baby's breath, in hues to match their attire.

Jennifer Slaby and Cort Baumgart served as miniature bride and groom, and were dressed similar to the bridal couple.

The groom chose his brother,

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH McNEISH. They were united in marriage at St. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church in Collinsville. Formerly Miss Connie L. Jackson, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jackson, 2554 Ivy Lane.

Pat McNeish, as best man. John McNeish, another brother of the groom, Bill Baca and Mark Wendler, served as groomsmen.

Ushers were Tina Graham, Vic Graham, Steve Kersey and Gary Landolt. Tina and Vic Graham also served as candlelighters.

A reception was given at the VFW Hall and the rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

Mrs. Jackson, mother of the bride, selected a pink chiffon formal length gown and the groom's mother was attired in a long white chignon dress. Both mothers wore wristlets of roses.

A 1974 graduate of North High School, the bride is employed at the First Granite City National Bank. The groom is an employee of the A. O. Smith Corp., and is a Collinsville High School graduate.

They are residing in Granite City, following a wedding trip to Florida.

Steelers' Wright injured ...

Warriors 2-1 on week; North shutout twice

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Bruce Wright, playing center field for Granite City North, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital yesterday after being hit by a thrown ball in the first inning of the Steelers' game against Triad.

Wright started the game with a double to center. The Triad center fielder threw the ball in to the shortstop, the shortstop misplayed the ball and Wright was hit a glancing blow to the mouth. No stitches were necessary, however, plastic surgery is possible.

North lost the game by a score of 2-0. Triad's runs were both unearned. Tuesday, North was shut out by Roxana, 1-0. South won two out of three of its games this week. Yesterday the Warriors beat Wood River 3-1 and Tuesday they split a double header at Greenville. South won the first game 18-1 and lost the second 1-0.

TRIAD 2, NORTH 0
North had seven hits to Triad's four, yet Triad scored two to the Steeler's none.

"Terry (Page) did a super job in pitching," commented Steeler coach Bob Stegmeyer. Page pitched all seven innings and struck out three, walked six, and allowed four hits and two unearned runs.

Tom Green was two for three for the game for the Steelers. Other highlights were: Wright's double in the first, Doug Rains doubled in the fourth, and Mike Simpson doubled in the sixth. Barry Cline of Triad bunted towards first. The Steelers forced Randy Wiesemeyer out at second, who got on by an error. Joe Feigl also bunted towards first base, but a Steeler error put two men on. Scott Smith walked to load the bases for Triad. Bill Schaubert hit into a fielder's choice, allowing Cline to score. The choice was almost turned into a double play, but another Steeler error was to let Feigl score, 2-0.

SOUTH 3, WOOD RIVER 1
"We are proud to have a pitcher that can go all the way for us when we need him," commented Warrior baseball coach Conrad "Babe" Champion about pitcher Tom Mahl.

Champion's nine scored three runs on five hits, whereas the Oilers had six hits and scored only once.

South's run came in the bottom of the fourth. Danny Schaus led off with a single to shallow right field. John Krekovich doubled to right to put Schaus on third. Schaus scored when Larry Heagy doubled. On a base hit by Jim Thurman, both Krekovich and Heagy scored, 3-0.

The run by Wood River happened in the fifth frame where David Armstrong tripled to deep center field. Armstrong stroled across the plate on a right field base hit by Jim Logan, 3-1.

"We're playing good defense right now. We didn't have an error all game," stated coach Champion. Wood River was also errorless in the game.

SOUTH 18, GREENVILLE 1
Al Young claimed his third win of the season with a decisive win of 18-1 over the Greenville Comets. Young pitched the first five innings allowing two hits. He walked one Comet and struck out three, he also gave up no runs. Terry Lindsey came in relief in the sixth to walk two, strike out two and allow one hit and one run.

The Warriors scored in all innings except the sixth and the Comets scored only in the last inning.

Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl led off for the Warriors with a courtesy first base. He scored on a triple by Tom Henrich. Krekovich sacrificed to the first baseman to allow Henrich to score, 2-0.

South scored two more in the second inning. Pat Hogan — the designated hitter for the pitchers — singled and advanced to third when Thurman and Bob Stegmeyer both walked. Hogan scored on a wild pitch and Thurman crossed the hexagon when Schaus singled, 4-0.

The Warriors scored three more in the third, seven in the fourth — where they batted 12 Warriors — two more in the fifth, and two in the seventh, 18-1.

Scott Brown of Greenville, scored for the Comets in the bottom of the seventh. Brown walked, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on a fielder's choice by Billy Bruno, 18-1.

GREENVILLE 1, NORTH 0
Mike DeGonia pitched all seven innings for the Warriors in the second game of the double header against Greenville. DeGonia picked up his first loss as the Warriors were shut out, 1-0.

South had only one hit, that came off the bat of Henrich in the fourth. Greenville hit safely six times, scoring one. Mike Johnson, in the third, hit a home run, 1-0.

ROXANA 1, NORTH 0
With a strong wind towards home plate, the Steelers bowed to the Shells of Roxana by a score of 1-0. Doug Rains, of North, pitched seven innings and allowed one run off of six hits. North had four hits and both the teams were errorless. The run came in the sixth inning. Jim Brown singled up the middle to lead off for the Shells. Brown scored on a left field double by Glen Exton, 1-0.

Mile relay gives Steelers edge; beat South fourth straight time

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Imagine. It's fourth-down and go to there's just one second remaining on the clock. And your team scores a touchdown to win the game by one point after being behind earlier by 20.

Or ... the bottom of the ninth, two out, and one man on base. You're behind by one. And you hit a home run to win it.

Your track team has been behind by nearly 20 points, but has crept back to within one point going into the final event of the track meet. And you win it, the meet, and the city track championship.

That's what happened here yesterday afternoon in the annual meeting of Granite City's two high schools, GCHS North and South at Memorial Field on the South campus.

TRAILING by nearly 20 points midway through the meet, North's Steelers made up ground in a hurry and crept to within one point, 68-47½, going into the final event of the meet, the mile relay.

The Steeler mile relay squad of Glenn Edwards, John Kafalas, Roberto Cuevas and Aaron Hickam easily defeated South's team in the event to lead North to a 72½-68½ victory. North's time was 3:44.5 compared to South's 3:55.7.

"THIS IS four in a row for us now," said a jubilant North coach Harry Lang. "This was our first big meet of the year. Now we've got another one, the district next weekend."

But obviously, the Steelers' fourth victory in a row over the Warriors did not come easy.

South's two-mile relay team easily won that event. It's time was 8:38.9. North ran it in 8:45.4.

But the Steeler's 440-yard relay team came back and edged South in that event. North's time was 45.8, South's was 46.1.

North's Mike Baker seemed to be literally running away from the pack early in the two-mile run. He was, at times, nearly half a lap ahead of the other runners.

BUT AS Baker eased up toward the end of the race, two immediately behind him weren't. Bert Houston of South and Greg Stout of North sprinted neck-and-neck toward the finish line where Stout out-leaped Houston at the wire — and both were only a second behind Baker. Stout took second in 10:09, while Houston's time was 10:09.1.

Ed Hutch of North won the high hurdles ... finally. It took a little longer to get the event started than normal. The reason being two false starts which disqualified two runners. Hutch's time was 16.8. Hencky of South was second in 17.9, followed by Warrior Cliff Moran in 18.0.

MORAN turned his third into a first when he ran the 100-yard dash in first place time of 16.3. Kevin Buchanan of North was second in 16.5, followed by Steeler Don Cook in 16.55.

South's Bert Houston was the winner of the 800-yard run in 2:01.3. North's Glenn Edwards was second in 2:02, followed by Jeff Joyce and South's Scott Gardner in a head-to-head third place in 2:13.2, accounting for the half-point in the final scores.

Aaron Hickam of North was the winner of the 400-yard dash in 52.3. Ken Meagher of South was second in 53.5, followed by Roberto Cuevas of North in 53.84.

Kevin Burch of North was the winner of the 330-yard low hurdles in 41.4. Kenny Brooks of North was second in 41.9, followed by John Kafalas of North in third to complete a sweep by North in the event, in 42.1.

BAKER easily ran away with the mile run, coasting into first place with a time of 4:38. Dave Taylor of South was second in 4:44.5, followed by Stout in 4:48.5.

Buchanan and Moran ran a neck-and-neck race to the finish line in the 220-yard dash where Buchanan edged Moran, 23.4 to 23.5. Don Cook of North was third in 23.58, less than a second behind Moran.

SOUTH dominated most of the field events, including the 400-yard low hurdles. Ray and Grove of South were one-two-three for the Warriors. Huether's toss was 140 feet, 10 inches. Ray's 139-10 and Groves' 125-7.

Futch of North grabbed firsts in two events to become the meet's only triple-winner, coupled with his victory in the high hurdles. He won the triple jump with a distance of 40 feet, two inches. Jim Dimidroff of South was second at 38.2, followed by Meagher of South at 38-11.

FUTCH won the long jump with a distance of 20 feet. He was followed by Meagher at 19-1½ and Hatch of South at 18-9½.

Moran easily won the pole vault with a height of 12 feet. Steve Adams of South was second at 11-4 followed by North's Kafalas at 11-6.

Huether won the shot put with a toss of 52 feet, 2½ inches. Ray was second at 48-8½, and Siebert of South at 46-2½.

Houston won the high jump for South with a leap of six feet. South's Rouney was second at 5-10. Ray Burton of North was third at 5-6.

Former Granite Cityan Doug Beatty is taming rival Mississippi batters... with no-hitters

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor

LONG BEACH, MISS. — Mississippi has gotten a little taste of what Quad-Cities baseball training does for a youngster.

Doug Beatty, a junior at Long Beach High School near Biloxi, Miss., is a former resident of Granite City and played baseball in the Mitchell Athletic Club league as a youngster.

He also pitched one and a half no-hitters this year for his team in leading it into the state playoffs in Mississippi.

ONE AND A HALF no-hitters? "Well, we've got him down for a no-hitter in our scorebook in a game earlier in the year," said Long Beach High head baseball coach Jerry Rause in his southern drawl.

"But we were playing at the other team's place and they gave their guy a hit instead of giving our guy an error, so I guess he officially pitched a one-hitter. But in our minds, it was a no-hitter."

That "guy" who got the error for Long Beach was none other than Beatty himself.

"It was a little looper over my head that I had to go back and get," said Beatty. "It threw the ball a little low and pulled our first baseman off the base. It was an error."

BEATTY is the son of Mrs. Jean McLeod and the late Archie Beatty. His mother has since remarried and is operating an ice cream store in the thriving area near Long Beach, Doug is the grandson of George Albertson of 2514 Pontoon in Granite City.

"I guess my mom's been the biggest influence on my pitching," said Doug. "She keeps after me to stay with it and tells me that I've got a good thing going and that I should put it to use."

Doug's no-hit gem came against arch-rival Pascagoula in the championship game of the Mississippi Western Division Class AA District VIII. He also drove in the winning run with a base hit in Long Beach's 1-0 victory.

"I FIRST thought about getting a no-hitter in the fourth inning," said Beatty. "By the time there were two outs in the sixth, I started to think about it a lot."

But alas, all good things must come to an end. Long Beach was beaten in the state semifinals by Clinton High, thus allowing Doug to devote all his time and energy to another of his favorite pastimes. American Legion baseball. He pitches for Post 83 in Long Beach.

"Doug's a great kid to work with," said Rause. "He works real hard at it and is a smart-type ball player. He's a real prospect."

BASEBALL isn't the only sport that occupies Doug's time. He earned honorable mention All-Gulf Coast Conference this past season as the sixth man on Long Beach's basketball team. He played as a 5-11 guard. Doug considers himself to be a Mississippian, having lived there for almost six years, but said he and his family get back to Granite City at least once a year.

BEATTY has an older brother, Jeff, who also starred in basketball and baseball in high school. He is currently a sophomore at Jefferson Davis Junior College near Long Beach, having transferred there from the University of Mississippi. Depending on his scholarship offers next year, Doug (right now) is leaning toward attending the University of Southern Mississippi when he enters college. He plans to major in a health-physical education related field.

MAYBE the next time he gets "up this way," somebody will try and get him to stick around and play a little ball... yankee-style.

DOUG BEATTY

JUCO stars sign at SIUE

EDWARDSVILLE - Two junior college basketball standouts have signed letters of intent to play at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville next fall.

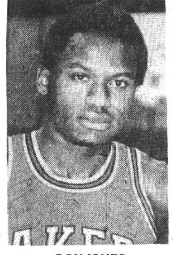

Ron (Too Tall) Jones, a native of Middletown, Ohio who played basketball at Lakeland (Mattoon, Ill.) Junior College and Lawrence Brown, a native of Chicago who played at Kankakee Junior College, have decided to play for SIUE Coach Jim Dudley.

Jones, a 6-8, 215-pound forward who can also play center if needed, paced Lakeland's Lakers last season in rebounds as he pulled down 12 per game. He also scored 11 points per game.

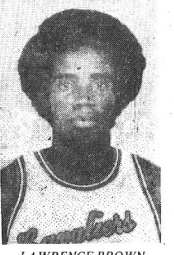

He was a member of the Illinois Junior College South squad in the state all-star game. At that event, he was one of a crowd-pleasing slam-dunk contest.

Jones captured Dudley's attention when he scored 27 points against SIUE's junior varsity team and had 15 rebounds last winter.

"Ron will be able to step in and give us immediate help next season," Dudley predicted. "He is an exciting player and takes coaching every well. He'll help us, no doubt about it."

RON JONES

Dudley is a former head coach at Lakeland.

Brown, basically a forward type of player, played the past two seasons as an outstanding member of the Kankakee Junior College team under coach Denny Lehman. At Chicago's Harper High School, he was coached by Bobby Ricks for three seasons.

Said Dudley: "Lawrence was one of three players I wanted to persuade to join us here at SIUE. He can step right in and help us immediately."

Brown was named Most Valuable Player at Kankakee for the 1977-78 season as he averaged 16.2 points per game and hit on a 53 percent of his shots from the field. In addition, he averaged nine rebounds per game.

DON COOK TAKES OFF AFTER GETTING THE BATON FROM TIM DUDLEY

Fourth straight . . .

GRANITE CITY — Going into the final event of the day here Wednesday, Granite City North's Steeler track needed a victory to win the meet. What meet? THE meet.

North vs. South . . . again. As evidenced by the picture at upper right, North won the final event, the mile relay. But about an hour earlier, things were not so rosy for North. They trailed at one point in the meet by over 20 points.

But by scrapping out a win here and there and taking a third or second place here and there, the Steelers gradually edged within reach. They trailed by one point going into the final event.

"We just gave it away, said South coach Don Miller. "We had them down, made some stupid mental errors and just gave it to them."

North's Harry Lang may have seen it that way, too, but he didn't show it afterwards.

"I'm super proud of these guys," he said. "They hung tough and came through in the clutch."

"This was our first big meet of the season and we've got another one at the district meet next."

It seems that whenever North and South get together in ANYTHING, records are thrown out the window. Such was the case here yesterday.

Who'd have thought that two runners (one from North and one from South) would finish just about a second behind North's Mike Baker in the two-mile run? Baker may have been easing up, may have been suffering from a cold, etc. But nonetheless, it happened.

In the high hurdles, Kenny Brooks, North's top hurdler false started. Then Steve Adams, South's top hurdler false started, leaving the way open for North's Ed Futch to win the event on the way to becoming a surprising triple-winner. He also won the triple jump and the long jump.

After the Steelers' victory, they took the traditional victory lap around Memorial Field. They were shouting and cheering. They had just beaten their arch-rivals for the fourth year in a row.

But just barely.

Pressing on . . . They're biting at Rend Lake

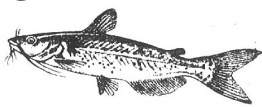

Illinois fishermen should find excellent opportunities at Rend Lake.

The youngest of the three major reservoirs in Illinois, Rend Lake is just beginning to reach maturity.

Covering 18,900 acres, Rend provides 162 miles of shoreline for fishing and more than a dozen acres of launching areas. There's also bait and tackle concessions, picnic facilities and a camping area.

Crappie fishing at Rend should improve this spring and anglers can expect to take some one-half to one pounders. Bays with flooded brush, flooded timber near Nelson Point and riprap areas should provide the best action.

White bass fishing generally begins late in June and continues through mid-October. Fishing is expected to be best near the island, off points, above shallow flats and near riprap areas. Channel catfish will provide good action for trotliners. Best catches are expected in the flooded timber, river channels and near islands. Largemouth bass fishing will be average, with most catches one to two pounds. April to October is the best fishing period, and most catches will come off the points, near riprap and in bays with flooded brush and timber. Bullhead, drum and carp fishing should be good to September throughout the lake.

Five species of sunfish (green, longear, redear, warmouth and bluntnose) are found in Rend Lake and all can be caught in brushy bays or flooded timber areas. Best fishing for sunfish is May to July and September.

A map of Rend Lake is available from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, P.O. Box 400, Benton, 62812.

North-South were having a poor game when a pair of arch rivals sat down so the bidding went:

3 S	Pass	4 C	Pass

West started with the ace of hearts which was ruffed. Declarer cashed the diamond ace and led the ten of spades to East's jack. A trump came back, South winning and then ruffing a spade. The king of diamonds provided a parking place for another spade, then the jack was pushed through. When East ducked (it does not matter) South discarded a third spade. The closed hand was re-entered by ruffing a heart. Declarer trumped his last spade with dummy's queen, then regained his hand with another heart ruff to draw West's last trump and claim.

As long as the defender with two clubs does not have an immediate spade entry and the diamonds are 4-4 with the queen onside, East-West cannot touch the contract. Though successful, North and South are still arguing over the auction, North claiming partner's jump to three spades followed by a cue bid in diamonds was overenthusiastic. South suggesting the weak hand merited no more than a five club call.

Another Ike?

One couple that stayed together through the bad times is JULIE NIXON EISENHOWER and her husband DAVID. Well, they're looking forward to the good times and the young couple are expecting their first child this summer after being married nearly 10 years. The former president will soon be a grandfather for the first time.

Krieshok-Danco wedding at First Presbyterian

Miss Paula Lynn Danco, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Danco, 2309 Gary Ave., and Peter George Krieshok Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Krieshok, 2444 Pine St., were united in marriage on May 6, at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Bouquets of spring flowers and burning tapers in branched candelabra provided the setting for the 2 o'clock afternoon double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. David Maxton, and Father Kenneth Becker.

Organist Kenneth L. MacClatchey accompanied Thomas Krieshok, a brother of the groom, as he sang, "Evergreen," "Colour My World" and "The Wedding Song."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white Chantilly lace and organza gown fashioned with a Queen Ann neckline, etched with pearls, and a lace Empire bodice.

The long full shepherd sleeves featured a lace cap at the shoulders and lace cuffs.

Her long skirt was designed with a front panel of organza and lace on both sides and the hemline was encircled with scalloped lace and extended into a full sweep chapel train.

She wore a mantilla style veil bordered with lace which fell to the sweep of the bridal train.

The bride carried a silk bouquet of Sonia roses with white carnations, lily of the valley and baby's breath.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Richard Skirball, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids included Misses Paula and Ginger Krieshok, sisters of the groom, Miss Cathy Leeper and Miss Janet Wiggins.

They chose identical shrimp color floor length organza dresses with caplet sleeves and a bustle back cascading into the floor.

Each attendant wore a matching picture hat and held a bouquet of carnations in the floor.

The groom chose Richard Halvachs as best man, Joseph Krieshok, another brother of the groom, Victor Reznack, Peter Nasir and Steve Truck, served as groomsmen.

Dance Company performance

The Mid America Dance Company, a new professional modern dance company made up of dance and choreographic talent from this area, will perform at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the Communication Building theater.

"Kreiseliana" is a wry observation of society and manners to a selection of Fritz Kreisler's best-loved melodies. "Surviving Adverse Seasons" is an intense, subjective statement protesting an intolerable winter.

Why it pays to be defensive driver

It pays to be a defensive driver. Crashes are costly.

According to a study by a national insurance trade association, it would cost $23,400 to replace all the parts on a totally wrecked 1978 standard automobile priced at $5,997. Repair of the "totaled" car would be more than four times the purchase price.

This third annual study by the Alliance of American Insurers notes no one really would pay $23,400 to rebuild a car totally wrecked in a crash. It's cheaper to buy another car.

But the study illustrates the rising cost of auto crash repair as a factor in the cost of automobile insurance. It also shows why even minor crash damage is so expensive to fix.

For example, damage to less than one-fourth of a car's parts would cost more to repair than the car is worth. If the car in the study were in a crash and 25 percent of its parts had to be replaced, the repair costs would not be 25 percent of the original price, but 25 percent of $23,400. That's $5,850 or 753 more than the original price.

Damage requiring replacement of only one percent of the car's parts would cost about $234 to repair, one percent of $23,400. Damage that requires replacement of 10 percent of the car's parts would cost about $2,340.

What all this means is that even moderate damage can make a car not worth repairing, especially if it is three or four years old. This is a hard pocketbook fact many drivers overlook. If they understood it better, more of them would drive defensively.

Defensive driving is being alert to the actions and reactions of other drivers on the road, not merely oneself. Courtesy too is an essential ingredient of defensive driving. Courtesy is a good survival quality, not just a moral or ethical question.

The cost of repairing crash damage is helping push up the cost of collision, comprehensive and property damage liability insurance. Drivers of late model, medium-priced cars are likely to spend 55 to 60 percent of their total auto insurance premium on these coverages.

Insurance companies continue to fight the rising cost of auto repairs by urging auto body shops to repair damaged parts whenever possible instead of replacing them with more expensive new parts. In addition, the insurance industry encourages body shops to use proven new methods of repair, especially with aluminum and plastic parts.

Insurers have supported federal regulations requiring auto manufacturers to build more crash-resistant cars. They also have called upon manufacturers to build more repairable cars.

The Alliance conducted a comparable crash repair study in 1977. Last year a similar totally wrecked car cost $21,471 to replace all of the parts. Its purchase price was $4,681.

For the purpose of this year's analysis, the Alliance chose a popular 1978 standard four-door with AM radio, automatic transmission, air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, power door locks, 305 V8 engine, plus whitewall tires and full wheel covers, bumper pads and guards. The dealer price of $5,997 does not include dealer preparation charges and does not include sales tax.

The Alliance hired a nationally prominent auto repair cost expert to figure what it would cost to repair the car if totally demolished. The analysis did not include trade discounts for auto crash repair parts.

Discounts for such parts are not allowed in a number of areas throughout the country. However, in many sections the discounts for these parts may run 10 to 15 percent. The analysis also did not include state and local taxes, which can be as high as seven percent.

The study used labor costs of $12 per hour. In some areas of the country, however, the hourly rate for this type of labor is $25 an hour or more and in other areas it is lower.

The Alliance of American Insurers is a national trade association representing more than 100 major property-liability insurers.

'Red tape' poses danger to growth, consultant warns

Increased government regulation and public sentiment against further growth and development will make it increasingly difficult to convert farmland to other uses in the future, an environmental and planning consultant told relatives attending the May meeting of the National Association of Realtors and its affiliates at Chicago.

Speaking at a session of the Farm and Land Institute, and association affiliate, Robert B. Teska, founder of the Evanston consulting firm of Robert B. Teska Associates, said anti-growth sentiment usually espouses one of two philosophies.

"There are the 'small is beautiful' advocates and those who say that 'the last one in closes the door,'" he said. The last residents to move into a community are often the strongest advocates for maintaining the status quo, he added.

Developers and individual property owners also face a "permit" explosion, with government at all levels requiring growing number of increasingly complex permits that "sometimes virtually prohibit the average property owner from making even normal maintenance and repairs," Teska said.

Other challenges facing developers or owners of property include finding land suitable for developing, determining ways to use the land creatively, and dealing effectively with local bureaucracy, he said.

"Finding the land is no small problem," Teska said. "I can no longer depend on the nearest municipality to annex the property, nor on the virtually appropriate special district to extend its services," he added.

Some developers increase their costs but reduce the risk of not being able to obtain sewer, water and other services by buying more expensive vacant land in areas that already have such services, he said.

There are usually several appropriate uses for a piece of property, and often several can be accommodated simultaneously, Teska suggested. For example, a portion of land for a housing developer might be held in collective ownership and retained as a forest preserve, appealing advocates of open space and other environmental causes and allowing the developer some tax advantages.

To deal most effectively with the maze of government requirements and municipal officials, developers should support rational planning at all levels of government based on sound professional input — including their own, Teska said.

Pro-ERA forces to gather

Naomi Ross, president of Illinois NOW-National Organization for Women, said
the reason the Equal Rights
Amendment has not passed the Illinois legislature by the needed three-fifths vote is
"because too many legislators are not responsive to the wishes of their constituents and are too easily influenced by the anti-
ERA forces, which are a small,
vocal minority."

The state NOW president was addressing an audience at the Americans for Equality Day rally at Mount Vernon, Ill.

Miss Ross outlined steps to be taken by pro-ERA groups, including a June 9 rally in Peoria and a march and vigil in Washington, D. C., scheduled
July 9.

Determination on the part of pro-ERA forces to gain ratification of the amendment
also was affirmed by Ann Foliss, national president of Housewives for ERA.

The national officer countered claims offered by ERA opponents that the ERA only will benefit working women, by stating, "Nobody needs the ERA more than housewives."

State Representative Jim
McPike (D-Alton) predicted,
"The Equal Rights Amendment will pass the Illinois House before the end of May."

His remark drew loud applause from over 200 ERA supporters gathered at the rally.

Rep. McPike told the audience not to expect help from Governor James R.
Thompson or President Jimmy Carter in getting ERA passed in Illinois.

'Celebrity' rockers to take part in Rockathon

A "celebrity rocking chair" will be a feature of the second annual Rockathon to be held by the Granite City Society for Crippled Children as a fund-raising event at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center Saturday.

The event will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until 5 p.m. with participants rocking to earn money from sponsors that will go into the society funds.

The celebrity chair, which will be under direction of Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman, will be occupied for various rocking periods by Mayor Paul Schulz, Miss Granite City

Karen Koliste, Chamber of Commerce President Roger Higgins, Fire Chief Don Parente, Breakfast Kiwanis Club President Herb Camren, Assistant Police Chief George Teller, Jaycees Vice President Bob Burgess, Postmaster Herbert Backs, City Treasurer Nick Petrillo and YMCA Program Director Don Rains. Mrs. Lily Chaboude, president of the Society for Crippled Children, has announced that John Fornaszewski's Music store is coordinating a program of almost continuous entertainment during the Rockathon.

The "Artesia" rock band will perform from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and Granite City's "Big Band Machine," headed by drummer Stan Fornaszewski, will play from 4:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. Featuring the "big band" sounds of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Harry James and Maynard Ferguson, members of the band are Stan Fornaszewski, leader and Steve Mann, Lonnie Smith, Wayne Soehlein, Eric Stille, Jeff Kuhn, Jerry Noth, Andy Piersan, Mike Bennett, Mike Hildreth, Helena Langley, Kirk Potillo, Ted Thalman, Scott Jenkins, Wes Stanfield, Tim Passig, Diane Boyer, Dawn Cox, Vicki Johnson and Bob Anderson. The Mary Lou Metcalf Band will be featured from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

John Fornaszewski also will have forenoon entertainment. Dave Whitsell, president-elect of the Society, is in charge of registration and is urging all to pick up a sponsor sheet at Michel's Jewelry and Gift Shop or Ernie's Service Station.

The Mammoth "rock" will aid crippled and handicapped children in this area. Those who need further information on who can lend a rocking chair for the day may contact the chairman of the event, Ernest Hopkins, at his home, 877-7352, or at his business, 876-9788.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S ROCKATHON to be held this Saturday in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center will feature local celebrities throughout the 12-hour event. Getting some rocking practice is Bob Burgess, seated, vice-president of the Granite City Jaycees, who will be at the rockathon along with Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce President Roger Higgins, left. Also to be on hand is Officer Friendly Fred Hoffman, right. The rocking will begin at 9 a.m. This is the second annual rockathon sponsored by the organization. (Press Record Photo)

Mayor proclaims 'Clean-up Week'

Mayor Paul Schulz has proclaimed next week as "Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up week," and has called on all Granite Cityans to take an active part in improvement of their homes and yards.

In a statement, the mayor said:

"On being blessed with pleasant weather, with homeowners and landlords everywhere making an effort to clean up their properties; with experienced and unexperienced gardeners and would-be gardeners planting flowers and vegetable gardens to brighten up their yards and ease the drain of money spent on fresh vegetables; and with people throughout all of the Granite City community making a concerted effort to clean up, fixup and paintup their properties, I hereby proclaim the week of May 15 as Clean up, Paint up and Fixup Week."

"During this time period I ask every individual to join with his neighbor and improve their neighborhood. The pile of junk that is in the yard have it removed and keep your yard clean. The grass that looks so nice because it is tall and green, cut it and keep it cut."

"Your yard will look better when the grass is kept cut. Check the eaves around your house, that faded-looking fence, the porch and window sills with the peeling paint. If these items warrant a new paint job invest in a gallon or two of paint and give your house a new look. Not only will it help the looks of your home and yard, but your property will appreciate in value."

"That empty spot near the corner of the house, that long walkway, the driveway or along the side of the house or near the fence might look a lot better if a few dollars were invested in plants."

"The planting of a flowering or shade tree in the front yard would also enhance the looks of the property not to mention the comfort it would provide during the hot summer months."

"Only with the cooperation of all the citizens of Granite City can the goal of a clean and better-looking city be achieved. Everyone must pitch in and clean up. Remember, it's up to you to make and keep Granite City a clean, attractive and desirable place to live."

Arbitration, 'justice centers' favored by lawyers in state

An agenda of high-priority concerns for the legal profession in Illinois has been developed at a long-range planning conference of the Illinois State Bar Association, held in Rockford.

Eighty representatives of the legal profession and the lay public gathered for the conference April 27-29 and considered goals in four areas — professional competence, public image-responsibility, participation, government intervention, and delivery of legal services.

Using a consensus method of setting priorities, conferees gave strong support to the following specific goals for the state's legal profession:

Expanded use of binding arbitration services staffed by volunteers for resolution of simple legal disputes.

Development of urban neighborhood legal offices or clinics providing low- and middle-income population with legal information and preliminary screening of legal problems.

Development of neighborhood justice centers to provide a mechanism for supervised reconciliation of disputes outside the court system.

Involvement of lay persons in the lawyer discipline system, including use of lay members on disciplinary boards.

Teaching of legal ethics as a required separate course in law schools.

Development of training programs for judges prior to their sitting as judges under the present elective system.

Adoption of a merit selection plan for judges with lay participation on judicial nominating panels.

Expanded availability and quality of legal aid services where the need exists.

Seeking of additional public defenders, state's attorneys, and circuit court judges where the need exists.

Expansion of institutional advertising by bar associations to inform the public about legal fees, legal problems and services available.

Review of contingent fees (lawyers receive percentage of settlement or verdict if successful and otherwise receive no fee) to determine if there are problems with this method of financing legal services.

Consideration of a new disciplinary rule to provide sanctions against lawyers for undue court delay and other manipulative tactics.

Initiation of a program of widely publicizing the results of disciplinary actions against lawyers.

Expansion of legal services to the mentally ill and developmentally disabled.

Development of an education program for news reporters who cover the courts.

Education of the bar to the profession's public image problems and ways to improve.

Conferees participants were unable to reach consensus on the question of whether preferential treatment should be provided minorities for admission to law schools and for special assistance once admitted.

But conferees strongly recommended that there be no preferential treatment for admission to the bar.

Among other recommendations were development of a code of ethics for legislators, drafting of certain standard legal documents in language easily understandable by lay persons, and development of methods to inform the public of lawyers' areas of emphasis (specialties).

Priorities set during the conference will be reviewed by the Long-Range Planning Committee of the Illinois State Bar Association, chaired by J. Gordon Henry of Chicago, as a first step toward implementation.

Recommendations from that committee will proceed to the governing assembly of the ISBA in the form of specific program or policy changes.

According to John H. Dickason, executive director of the Illinois State Bar Association, some of the priorities are now being met by ISBA or other organizations, and other priorities are being fulfilled in part, but many of the recommendations are entirely new ideas not yet considered in Illinois.

Dickason said ISBA will give consideration to all priorities, with implementation where it is deemed appropriate.

Many of the priorities pertain to organizations other than ISBA and, in those cases, the bar will act to suggest appropriate action.

John E. Cribbet, dean of the College of Law, University of Illinois, gave the keynote address, listing four basic causes for popular dissatisfaction with the American legal profession:

(1) Charges that the profession lacks competence in many areas where expertise is required.

(2) The seeming failure to provide access to the courts and the legal process for a large number of citizens.

(3) The expense of legal services that some feel are excessive.

(4) A supposedly widespread belief that lawyers are lacking in integrity.

Dean Cribbet said he does not accept all of these charges at face value.

"Some of the charges leveled against the profession are the result of our successes rather than our failures," according to Cribbet.

"Underlying these four popular causes of dissatisfaction is a more pervasive and deep-seated problem.

"Modern life has become too complex and the American people have too much faith in law as the solvent for all of our social problems."

He then set the tone for the long-range planning process: "Our first task is to be fully aware of the popular causes of dissatisfaction, and plead guilty where we are guilty. The second task is to be about the business of correcting deficiencies to the best of our abilities."

The 80 conference participants divided into smaller groups to explore the four general subject areas and to develop statements to be presented to the entire group in search of consensus.

The conference was moderated by John H. Dickason, ISBA executive director.

The association conducted a similar conference in 1972, but this year's session was different due to the addition of lay participants.

Lay members representing community and social organizations, the clergy, media, education, business, real estate, public officials and others were in attendance.

Mission to countries on Persian Gulf may bring students to SIUE

By TOMMYE WALTER
What began as a consulting mission to the countries bordering the Persian Gulf, may one day mean additional students for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Recruiting students from faraway Qatar and Bahrain sound far-fetched? It shouldn't. After all, last year 84 young people from Qatar were enrolled in classes at American colleges and universities, along with almost that many from Bahrain.

Qatar is a point of land that juts out from the Arabian peninsula into the gulf. Most of its region is arid, desert country. Bahrain is a group of eight islands in the gulf nearby. Both countries have the history of being oil-rich.

Once Bahrain was noted for its pearl diving industry. However, the days of pearling are fast disappearing, along with depletion of the country's oil sources. "Oil was a godsend to the Bahraini. They had the foresight to realize that oil was a short-lived commodity," Jack Shaheen, professor of mass communications at SIUE, said.

Mories gained from the sale of oil have been wisely invested in such industries as banking, commerce and tourism, Shaheen said. The mass communications professor has just returned from his second trip to Qatar and Bahrain within the year.

Communications between the countries and SIUE began when Shaheen was invited by the U.S. State Department to assist the Qataris in establishing a regional communications training center.

The purpose of the proposed communications training center would be to train young people in television, radio, and film production so that they can provide programming for all the countries bordering the gulf.

The mass media in Qatar now offer programming that has been initiated locally, programs from other countries of the Arabic world, and programs that come from more distant countries.

The Qataris would prefer that more of the programming be produced locally. "They want Qataris to be in charge of their own media in their country," Shaheen said.

While he was in the middle east countries, Shaheen visited Qatar University to consider courses that might be useful for students entering the mass communications field.

Along with his suggestions for courses that might be offered, the professor recommended that Qatar students will be sent to SIUE at Carbondale to participate in English as a second language program.

When they have acquired competency in the language, the students will be transferred to the Edwardsville campus to enroll in the mass communications programs.

On his way home, Shaheen stopped off in Bahrain to report to the State Department. There he met the Bahraini undersecretary in the Ministry of Information, Shaikh Isa Bin Rashid Al-Khalifa.

The undersecretary confided to Shaheen that he had always wanted to visit America, causing the mass communications professor to extend an invitation to visit SIUE and tour its journalism and broadcast facilities.

Al-Khalifa was not long in accepting the invitation. Within a few months after Shaheen returned home, he received word that Al-Khalifa was on his way to the SIUE campus.

In only a few hours, Al-Khalifa was thoroughly immersed in American mass communications. In addition to touring the SIUE department of mass communications facilities, he attended an alumni gathering for the media in St. Louis and was interviewed on one of the St. Louis television programs.

I was impressed to see that American professors keep track of their graduates once they leave college," he commented following the alumni meeting.

Most foreign university professors maintain greater social distance between themselves and their students. While he was in Qatar and Bahrain, Shaheen noticed that gulf region sports competition differs somewhat from American competition in that not only the winner, but all participating teams are honored at the close of each tournament.

At present, the Bahraini soccer team is the No. 1 team in the gulf region. Tourists have no trouble understanding the game, Shaheen said, because at least one radio station broadcasts the game in English.

English-speaking tourists may watch the action on television with the volume turned down so they can hear the sound, and the volume turned up on the radio.

When Al-Khalifa visited SIUE last fall, he presented Shaheen with a Bahraini soccer pin. And when Shaheen made his second trip to the country recently to check on the progress of the learning center, he took along a handful of SIUE Cougar lapel stickers.

Today, anyone visiting Bahrain or Qatar shouldn't be at all surprised to see the SIUE logo, Shaheen said. And in a year or two, visitors to the SIUE campus shouldn't be at all surprised to see Qatar and Bahrain students strolling across the mall.

Two GC cadets are promoted

Two cadets from Granite City have received promotions in the U.S. Department of the Army.

Granite City cadets and their promotions are:

Frank Draganich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Draganich, 2713 Grand Avenue, cadet staff sergeant, and Darrell Tossaint, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Tossaint, 117 Riviera Drive, cadet sergeant.

The promotions were announced by LTC William C. Naylor, commandant of cadets. Promotions were granted for scholastic, athletic and leadership progress in the MMA Cadet Corps.

The ROTC program at the academy, a college preparatory school for boys in fourth through 12th grades, is rated as an honor unit with distinction by the U.S. Department of the Army.

Possession of cannabis charged

Larry J. Lemaster, 21, of 2138 Benton St., has been released on $100 cash bond after surrendering to Granite City police on a warrant alleging unlawful possession of cannabis.

Lemaster and an 18-year-old allegedly were found in a car smoking marijuana at Benton and Idaho streets March 13. No charges were filed at the time pending laboratory analysis of the suspected marijuana.

The Madison County State's Attorney's office refused to authorize charges against the 18-year-old, charging only Lemaster, driver of the auto.

Is there anyone who is so accustomed to the difficulties and perplexities of life's journey, so experienced in the snares and wiles of the enemy, so reliant upon his own wisdom, that he no longer needs guidance? The Psalmist had learned to let God lead him. What peace is restored to our souls, knowing He leads us.

All of life's trials serve but one vital purpose in our experience. The only abiding strength of any man is learning to lean. We need someone we can trust, one who will leave us, not forsake us. One who will not drive us, one who will lead us. Thanks be unto God, we have such a one!

Is He leading you? Today.

Steel imports in March set record

March steel imports of 1,996,000 tons raised foreign steel shipments into the United States in the first three months of this year to 5,745,000 tons — an all-time quarterly record — new data showed this week.

"The March total was 74 percent higher than March steel imports last year and has been exceeded in only five other months in the past 10 years," Frederick C. Langenberg, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, said.

Three of those higher monthly totals have been recorded over the seven months since last August," Langenberg added.

He noted that the nearly two million tons of steel imports in March followed an all-time one-month steel import record of 2,220,000 tons set in February.

The first quarter steel import total increased by nearly two and-a-half million tons over the 1977 first quarter steel import total of 3,299,000 tons.

Langenberg pointed out that government data show that the average declared value of a ton of imported steel during the first quarter of this year was less than for the same period of 1977.

This despite the fact that the steel import product mix has changed little and that the value of the U.S. dollar has fallen in the past year substantially in relation to other currencies.

The average declared value of steel imports in the first three months of this year was $287.50 per ton, according to the Department of Commerce. That compares with an average declared value of $303 per ton in the first quarter of last year.

Japan and the European Economic Community continue to be the biggest foreign shippers of steel into the U.S. market. During the first quarter, imports from Japan were 2,106,000 tons, while imports from the EEC totaled 1,996,000 tons.

In March, steel imports from Japan totaled 997,000 tons; EEC imports were 669,000 tons, according to government data.

Concern that workmen's compensation may be reducing incentive to work and driving Illinois jobs to other states

Comment by Illinois Manufacturers' Association — A survey of 460 Illinois manufacturers has found their workmen's compensation costs jumped nearly 400 percent in just three years, 1974-1977. The future growth of jobs in Illinois is extremely threatened by the soaring costs.

The "workmen's compensation crisis" in Illinois has arisen solely from the radical revisions in the Illinois Workmen's Compensation Law in 1975. In many respects, it is the worst WC law among the 50 states.

These and other aspects of workmen's compensation in Illinois are covered in a 78-page report released May 8. It was published by the independent, nonprofit Foundation for the Advancement of the Public Trust, Arlington, Va., an organization specializing in nonpartisan research.

The report was prepared for the Foundation by John B. Parrish, professor of economics, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. It was based in part on a confidential survey made in cooperation with the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

"Unless the Illinois General Assembly and the governor provide some relief from the unprecedented rise in WC costs, and soon, the job outlook in many hard-hit industries looks very, very tough," said Professor Parrish in releasing his study.

According to Dr. Parrish, "The impact of the 1975 amendments on some individual firms has been absolutely staggering. Some firms have experienced increases in workmen's compensation costs of 500 percent, 800 percent, 1,000 percent, 1,500 percent and even 2,000 percent in the three years, 1974-1977.

"It is little wonder that a few firms have already pulled up stakes and left Illinois, saying they could not remain in this state and compete effectively with competitors in nearby states or the Sunbelt."

"Other employers say they do not intend to leave Illinois but will concentrate future expansion outside of Illinois."

Professor Parrish also analyzed the impact of the 1975 changes on the insurance industry: "Writing workmen's compensation policies was only marginally profitable in Illinois prior to the radical 1975 revisions. It became dramatically unprofitable after the 1975 amendments. In 1976, the underwriting results for all companies writing WC policies in Illinois was a loss of $85,000,000."

Another problem with Illinois' excessive workmen's compensation program is that it reduces the incentive to go back to work, says Dr. Parrish: "The workmen's compensation benefits in Illinois since 1975 have become so liberal — plus the fact they are tax free, plus the fact they are received without deductions for work expenses — that Illinois workers can now get from 75 percent to over 100 percent of regular earnings without working.

"The incentive to return to work has been drastically reduced, thus destroying the original theory of workmen's compensation developed around 1910. Further, the present benefit levels encourage faking of injuries. It pays better than working."

Constructive stand by Madison School Board to cut costs

Madison schools have taken a step toward improved financial stability by eliminating the needlessly high salary of a needless non-board-member school treasurer.

Illinois law provides for the treasurer position to be held by a member of the school board in each district at no pay or to go to an outsider for remuneration.

Madison District 12 has now joined many other cost-conscious school systems in adopting this practice, by designating Board Member Elvers Johnson as the next treasurer.

Let's not 'pass the buck' in designing the new dollar coin

Press-Record Washington Bureau — Congress and the administration have so many issues to thresh out we hope they can avoid the confrontation over whose image should appear on the proposed new dollar coin.

Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal thinks the head of mythical feminine figure of Liberty, which adorned the old series of silver dollars, would do.

The women's caucus in the House wants a likeness of Susan B. Anthony, the famous women's rights leader of the 19th century.

If hell hath no fury like a women's caucus scorned, Mr. Blumenthal may rather switch than fight.

We can hear the question now: Why do we put profiles of famous American men on our coins, but no American women?

Those who argue that coins should honor only presidents of uncommon historic stature simply beg the question, Susan B. Anthony lived to be 86, assaulting the walls of male chauvinism to the last.

It was 14 years after her death before even the breach was made allowing women to vote. It's no fault of women that the presidency has been a male preserve.

The only hitch we see is that some feminists might prefer not to see a heroine of their movement adorning a smaller "silver" dollar that is not really silver — a coin that may remind us of the embezzlement of our inflated currency every time it clinks down on a counter to buy what used to cost 50 cents.

Before this mini-issue is settled, the long-suffering Miss Liberty may turn out to be the best choice after all.

Praise for GC elementary teacher

To the Editor:

I'm writing this letter to let people know of a fantastic teacher in this community.

You seldom hear from parents who are pleased with their child's teacher. But I, for one, am very pleased. I know I can speak for the other parents, too.

This lady's name is Mrs. Patti Prosser. She is currently teaching second grade at Niedringhaus School.

She has also taught kindergarten. My son has had her for both grades and is very happy with her.

Mrs. Prosser is the type who can make school enjoyable for the kids, she is always doing something different.

For example, her class cooked a "Thank you" dinner for all of us parents. Then, instead of lunch, she had a winter roast for the children and parents.

I have worked this entire year as a room mother for Mrs. Prosser and have been able to see her handle any situation with all the grace of a fine lady.

I've seen her teaching techniques, which are great.

If you have ever sat in a classroom with 20 seven-year-olds, as I have done, you wonder how these children can learn with all that racket. They do, especially with a teacher like Mrs. Prosser.

She has not been re-hired, as of yet, for next year. It's no fault of this second grade class want to see her back next year, so that other kids can have the advantage of her teaching skills.

Not only is she a great teacher, she is a fine lady. In closing, I would like to say to the school board, please keep Patti at Niedringhaus. We need her and we love her.

Don't inject Madison into GC debate

To the Editor:

In answer to the letter in the Press-Record of May 4, "Fears more fights, crashes, injuries," I think everyone has the right to freedom of speech but I don't think they should knock another city in doing it.

I was born and raised in Madison and there are just as many nice people there as in Granite City.

And look at other Madisonians and former Madisonians and all the honors they have won.

Look at the doctors, lawyers and owners of large businesses who were brought up in Madison.

I don't think the writer should run down Madison, because I think it's a good town and Mayor Mike Sasyk is doing a darn good job. They don't have any more than a trouble than Granite City does.

To the Editor:

In the May 4 issue of the Press-Record, there was a letter to the editor concerning taverns and tavern closings, titled, "Fears more fights, crashes, injuries."

It was written by a Ron Shafer.

After having been asked by several friends about the letter, I would like to state that I did not write the letter, nor do I know anything about it. My last name is spelled differently.

All have freedom to speak

Wall Street Journal — Chief Justice Burger laid out the law for anyone who might choose to disagree with the Supreme Court's decision giving business corporations more freedom to speak out on public issues.

The court, in First National Bank of Boston v. Bellotti, struck down a Massachusetts constitutional statute restricting businesses and banks from propagating their views, holding this restriction unconstitutional under the First Amendment.

The Massachusetts law prohibited specified corporations from contributing or spending money to influence state referenda that have no material effect on the "property, business or assets of the corporation."

In concurring in the 5-to-4 majority opinion, the Chief Justice asked a far-reaching question:

How could the court have upheld the Massachusetts law without at the same time "opening the door to similar restraints on media conglomerates with their vastly greater influence?"

In other words, how do you draw a line between the free press rights of a corporation that happens to publish a newspaper or magazine and one that merely manufactures paper?

Indeed, the same "media conglomerate," as the Chief Justice puts it, may do both.

The court has attempted to deal with this knotty question in the past in several different ways.

It has, for example, tried to set apart the "press," operated under whatever organizational form, as a definite institution that the framers of the Constitution clearly intended to protect.

And it has drawn distinctions between "commercial speech," i.e. corporate advertising, and "protected speech," i.e. editorializing.

But the present court obviously is of a corporateist persuasion. The definition of the constitutional free press right troublesome.

In decisions in 1975 and 1976 involving restrictions on advertising in Virginia, the court held that the public has a clear interest in obtaining commercial information; it thus greatly broadened First Amendment protections for commercial speech.

Now the Bellotti decision moves further toward the doctrine of the Freedom of the Press was meant to assure the public of the broadest possible flow of information, not merely to set up a legally defined, protected

Motherhood gives the joy of lifelong love and prayer for one's children

To the Editor:

With Mother's Day approaching, I would like to share some of my ideas about motherhood.

Motherhood is a 24-hour-a-day job and privilege, and begins at conception. At that very moment, your child's personality traits, likes and dislikes — and some physical features such as sex, color of hair and eyes, and shape of facial bones — are determined. These factors will very much affect your mothering.

As motherhood progresses, you will be thrilled to feel the first tiny kicks, flutters and somersaults. Seeing and feeling the changes in your body and hearing the fetal heartbeat for the first time make you ready and waiting for your role as mother.

The miracle of birth itself approaches, hearing, seeing and holding your baby for the first time.

For those not fortunate enough to carry a child inside, motherhood begins here with seeing, hearing and kissing your adopted infant or child. No one should be left out of the role as mother. Women can experience it regardless of their jobs or backgrounds.

An indescribable joy is the loving, secure peacefulness of nursing your child. The rewarding feeling of really being needed by this tiny person.

Feeding him, changing him, bathing him, dressing him, rocking, praying for and clipping those ever-growing fingerlings.

Motherhood is experiencing with your child his growth and development.

Watching for and recording in the baby books — and snapping pictures of — his first smile, his first time to roll over, sit alone, pull himself up, stand alone and then finally the first few unaided steps.

Then the words start coming to life — DaDa, BaBa and finally MaMa. The words turn to phrases, and then sentences, and then a very talkative two-year-old.

Children have such a unique way of expressing their love. Did you ever take a "nap as big as a telephone pole" or hear the constant exclaim, "But I have something to tell you?"

Motherhood is remembering all the "favorites" of each child.

His or her favorite color, toy, dish, blanket, TV shows and books. It is especially remembering all the favorite TV shows with the correct time and channel.

Motherhood is being number one cook, storyteller, nurse, housekeeper and, especially toy tender, teacher and referee for their constant small fights.

It is knowing all the Walt Disney and Sesame Street characters and nursery rhymes and songs.

It is answering their constant questions, wiping up spills, hearing of battles they can't brush their teeth in assembly lines and healing with a kiss and a bandage.

Motherhood is staying young at heart so you can walk and play in their world and see life through their eyes. It is going out to the car in the middle of a rainy night to get a favorite, forgotten toy.

It is hoping the new toy you just bought will keep them out of your lipstick, pots and pans, toothpaste, shampoo and bath powder.

Motherhood is silently observing their play and conversation without their knowledge. It is watching an 11-month-old trying to dress herself.

It is staying up all night with a child who has a fever and, surprisingly, not being sleepy the next morning.

It is never being lonely even when you want to be. It is missing them when you go shopping and leave them with a babysitter.

Motherhood is leaving to cries of protest but returning to smiling faces, running legs and open arms. It's hearing, "Mommy, don't be late" on your way out to dinner.

It is watching a determined two-year-old buttoning his shirt, and listening to the alphabet song until you can hear it in your sleep.

Am I looking for the future joys of motherhood are the face of an 11-month-old eating her first chocolate bar, smuggled to her by an older brother, an empty plate from your picky eater, or having all the kids clean and dressed at the same time.

Or hearing from your three-year-old, "I love all day and all night!" Or "You're really pretty, Mommy." First thing in the morning.

It is having the little chat after spanking one of the children.

More joys are, successfully having all the kids smile on the same picture or hearing "please" and "thank you" without a reminder, being able to answer the telephone before one of the kids; and announcing bedtime without, at least, two refusals.

The daily dandelions, proudly displayed.

And struggling to dress four pre-schoolers for snow only to have them come inside five minutes later.

More joys are to go to bed past midnight and being able to sleep through the night.

Motherhood is constantly coming back and putting in clips or ponies to match the color in their world and see life through their eyes. It is being able to find look-alike outfits for special occasions.

It is the first day of kindergarten, listening to your 5-year-old read, and spell dinosaur, stegosaurus and Easter all correctly.

I have five beautiful children. Ben is six and very interested in and knowledgeable about dinosaurs and nature. He is quiet and shy.

Cindy is five. She is very outgoing.

Greg is four. She is quiet but not really shy. She likes to play alone. She has naturally curly hair and is a Daddy's girl.

Theresa is almost three. She sings and likes to tap dance and carries a piece of silk at all times.

Greg is one year old, says "MaMa, DaDa, Ba" for brother Ben, "MaMa" for food, and "Bye-bye, this" and "asked how old he is, cheerfully raises one finger."

He makes it and plays well with his brothers and sisters.

I am expecting my sixth child in November and would like another son, but another beautiful daughter would be gladly accepted.

Am I looking for the future joys I've not yet experienced, the first outside birthday party, first date, first driver's license, high school graduation, entrance into college or the working world, weddings and grandchildren?

Motherhood never ends. A mother continues to love, care, and pray for her children all the days of her life.

Thoughts of life and death—written while within Madison County Jail

To the Editor:

Written from the Madison County Jail—

I—Please pass along my regards to the Granite City police. I was arrested again, but not their fault.

The members of the police department were nice to me, even though I wasn't used to the most suicides. The non-pregnant? By a ratio of 6-to-1.

Girls (married): This says that pregnancy is natural. Pregnancy is good for you.

May 4—We now have abortion. Unborn babies die. Few people are concerned.

Infanticide will be next. Defective babies. This, too, will not hit home.

Then comes euthanasia. The old and the feeble will die.

TV a gal from an abortion clinic. She said that since elective abortions are now out of some women may be committing suicide.

I wish they would tell the truth.

If there be 50,000 pregnant women and 50,000 non-pregnant women, guess which commit the most suicides. The non-pregnant? By a ratio of 6-to-1.

Girls (married): This says that pregnancy is natural. Pregnancy is good for you.

May 4—We now have abortion. Unborn babies die. Few people are concerned.

Infanticide will be next. Defective babies. This, too, will not hit home.

Then comes euthanasia. The old and the feeble will die.

Then, those on Social Security. That's you, readers. Okay?

A post wrote, "No man escapes when freedom fails."

"The best men rest in filthy jail."

And they who cry, "Appease, appease."

Are hanged by those they aim to please.

May I change to lesser rhyme?

No man escapes when freedom fails.

"When Right to Life in deep grave lies."

But they who cry, "Abort, abort."

"Will find their own life rather short."

Rejected for job, assails enforcement of sanitation and trash law as too lax

To the Editor:

I recommend that in the near future a convenience be allowed from the City Hall in the method of transportation — an open-body truck, one or two, to haul the aldermen of this city, the mayor, the city clerk, the city auditor and the mayor on a Saturday, without pay, to view the deplorable conditions of the alleys.

I'm referring mainly to the unsanitary conditions that prevail in this city. The city jurisdiction — did not on the garbage cans, piles of rubbish lying about the streets.

I have had a first option in view of this city, while working for the street department last year for six months while on strike. I had the pleasure of exterminating.

It is apparent that there is no "get tough policy" with the sanitation department to clean this city, due to the fact that, in contrast, some of the people will get revenge and the city may lose some votes.

So, it is a take-it-easy attitude, and let the stench, rats, vermin and debris prevail... for not enforcing the law and allowing these deplorable conditions. We have a paid refuse and garbage collector that does the job for weekly garbage.

It is apparent that a lot of people believe they pick up junk in their homes, and another false conclusion that the street department does the same.

They pick up the garbage. The alleys should be cleaned and free of debris.

The responsibility rests with the city administration, who enforce the sanitation code in this city, which is not being done.

They have many people on the Manpower program working for the city — all friends, relatives and political pawns of the city administration, who perform in the aspect of useful work equivalent to the manpower. I had the pleasure of exterminating.

OUR CRAFTSMEN CAN MAKE YOUR HOME OR BUILDING INTO A FUEL SAVER - A MONEY SAVER AND A SHOWPLACE,
NOW, AND IN THE FUTURE!

An important part of every installation is applying a special foil underlayment to insure a better weather tight seal.

More help in lowering your fuel and electric bills all year-round. The sun's heat is reflected from the foil in summer to keep interiors cooler. Radiated heat is reflected in the winter to help keep the home warmer and cut fuel bills.

All rotted sills replaced
All walls lathed and leveled

It is easy to see from the above photos of a typical Nailite installation why Nailite is the first choice of architects, builders and homeowners alike. Here is permanent beauty and insulation on any type of building or home in one easy application. It requires no costly foundation work that entails digging, trenching, or pouring of concrete. No damage to landscaping, shrubs or lawn. No dirt, no noise, no waste and no bothersome construction equipment. Get the free facts today!
